I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. L. C. PEREIRA,

Assistant Secretary to the Governor General.

The Honourable

The Speaker of the Senate,
Ottawa.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

After a while, His Excellency the Governor General having come, and being seated on the Throne,—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that,—

It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The House of Commons being come,

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to open the Session by a Gracious Speech to both houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is just over six months since Canada emerged from six long years of war. The turmoil which has followed in the wake of war has created new problems for governments in all parts of the globe. The world is full of unrest. Hunger, privation and suffering, have become the lot of millions. Other millions are homeless, many of them in exile. The problems which face the statesmen of every nation are formidable indeed.

It is only in the light of the world situation that all our problems can be seen in true perspective. The future of our own and of every country depends upon success in the task of world reconstruction, and the establishment of an enduring peace. Many of the measures you will be called upon to consider at the present session will be concerned with this wider aspect of human affairs.

Of world problems demanding immediate action, the most pressing is the provision of food to those peoples facing acute shortage, and, in some regions, widespread famine. The chance of a peaceful reconstruction of the world depends on food. The shortage at the present time is very great. The problem, moreover, is not only for the next few months, but also for the next few years. Unless the need is met, grave disorders, endangering peace itself, must be anticipated.

The government is seeking by all practicable means to make available for export the maximum supply of foodstuffs. Every encouragement is being given to increasing production. The gravity of the situation demands, on the part of the people of Canada, a united and wholehearted effort.

The maintenance of a high level of employment and national income is a fundamental aim of government policy. Employment and income alike are bound up with the restoration and expansion of world trade. To the productive employment of vast numbers of Canadians, export markets are essential.

The government has steadily pursued its efforts to restore former markets, to secure new markets and generally to expand peace-time exports. In pursuit of this policy, export credits, for which additional provision was made at the last session, have been extended to several of our wartime allies.

At this session you will be asked to approve an agreement, recently concluded, for a loan to the United Kingdom which will help maintain the British market for Canadian food products and other exports. The agreement will also contribute to the steady development of trade between the two countries, the removal of trade barriers and the free use of currencies for international trade.

While Canada, in common with all countries, continues to experience dislocations inevitable in a period of transition from war to peace, in no other country has the transition proceeded more speedily or with less friction.

Conversion of war industries to civilian production is progressing steadily, with a minimum of industrial strife, and increased co-operation between labour and management.

Wartime restrictions and controls are being removed as rapidly as conditions will permit. Price ceilings on many articles have been suspended. Wage and salary controls have been relaxed. Certain subsidies have been discontinued. Only such controls are being continued as are deemed necessary to prevent inflation and to safeguard the public welfare.

Except for the forces still employed in connection with the occupation of Germany, practically all of our armed forces are now home. Demobilization of both men and women is taking place rapidly. Every effort is being made to ensure the orderly re-establishment of veterans in civil life.

To complete consideration of the "Veterans Charter" you will be asked to reconstitute the Special Committee on Veterans Affairs.

You will also be asked to make provision for the permanent armed forces, to the composition of which much consideration has been given.

In our own as in other countries the demand for housing continues greatly to exceed the supply. Despite shortages of materials and labour, a very large number of houses have been constructed since V-E Day. Special efforts are being made to expand the supply of building materials to meet the demand for permanent housing, and, meanwhile, to provide emergency shelter. The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has been established. Its activities are being closely co-ordinated with those of Wartime Housing Limited and the Veterans Land Act Administration, with a view to having all matters relating to the construction of housing brought, as largely as possible, under the administration of one Minister of the Crown.

You will be asked to make provision for the redistribution of representation in the House of Commons.

Among other measures to which your attention will be invited will be bills to revise and clarify the definition of Canadian citizenship, and to bring the legislation respecting national status, naturalization and immigration into conformity with the definition of citizenship; bills to place in statutory form a number of orders in council to which it is desired to give permanent legislative effect; also a number of amendments to existing statutes.

Since the close of the last session, the initial meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations has been held in London. The Assembly will conclude its first session in New York in September. The Security Council, the Economic and Social Council, the Commission on Atomic Energy, and the International Court of Justice have been established. Our country was represented at the General Assembly by a delegation including Ministers of the Crown, other Members of Parliament, and leading officials of the Public Service. Canada was elected to the Economic and Social Council and to the Commission on Atomic Energy. A distinguished Canadian was elected a Judge of the International Court.

It is the policy of my Ministers to see that the utmost support is given by Canada to the United Nations Organization.

The problems of peace-making are exacting and arduous.

Germany and Japan continue to be under Allied Military Control. Early in the year, a Canadian Mission was established in Berlin to safeguard Canadian interests in Germany. Canada's interests in Japan are being watched through Canadian membership on the Far Eastern Commission, which recently visited Tokyo. The Commission has its headquarters in Washington.

Time will be required for the drafting of the treaties of peace. A conference is to be held in Paris later in the year to consider proposed treaties with Italy, Finland, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria. Canada will be represented at this conference.

A meeting of the Co-ordinating Committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference was held in January. Progress was made in the consideration of proposals submitted by the Dominion and Provincial Governments. The Committee will meet again on April 25.

As a result of the Conference, there may be further legislative proposals.

Members of the House of Commons:

You will be asked to make financial provision for all essential services, and for credits required to maintain export trade and a high level of employment and national income.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

My term of office is now almost at an end. You have already been informed of the appointment of Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis as my successor. Lord Alexander will arrive in Canada early in April. As this is the last occasion on which I shall have the honour to address you, may I be allowed to strike a personal note.

In 1914 I was unable to succeed His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught in the position of Governor General, for the simple reason that I was at that time a serving soldier. The disappointment I had sustained was, however, more than compensated for by my reappointment in 1940, strange to say, during another world war. It was for me a great honour to have been chosen. The intimate association with my Prime Minister, Ministers, Parliament and the people of this great country has brought you all very close to the hearts of Princess Alice and myself.

The years we have been in Canada have been the most eventful years in world history. It has been with profound admiration that we have witnessed the great part Canada has had in the preservation of world freedom, in the relief of suffering peoples, and in helping to lay the foundations of a new world order.

Princess Alice and I will ever recall that in these momentous years it has been our proud privilege to share in your anxieties and rejoicings. Throughout our lives we shall cherish an abiding affection for Canada and her people.

May Divine Providence continue to bless this nation, and to guide the Parliament of Canada in all its deliberations.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

The Senate was resumed.

The Honourable Senator Copp, for the Honourable Senator Robertson, presented to the Senate a Bill intituled: "An Act relating to Railways."

The said Bill was read the first time.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that a copy of the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General had been left in his hands.

The same was read by The Honourable the Speaker.

On motion it was—

Ordered, That the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General be taken into consideration on Tuesday, next.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Copp, for the Honourable Senator Robertson, it was—

Ordered, That all the Senators present during this Session be appointed a Committee to consider the Orders and Customs of the Senate and Privileges of Parliament, and that the said Committee have leave to meet in the Senate Chamber when and as often as they please.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Copp, for the Honourable Senator Robertson, it was—Ordered, That pursuant to Rule 77, the following Senators, to wit: The Honourable Senators Ballantyne, Beaubien, (Montarville), Buchanan, Copp, Haig, Howard, Sinclair, White, and the mover be appointed a Committee of Selection to nominate Senators to serve on the several Standing Committees during the present Session; and to report with all convenient speed the names of the Senators so nominated.

The Honourable the Speaker presented to the Senate the Report of the Librarians of Parliament.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIANS, 2ND SESSION, 20TH PARLIAMENT, 1946

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Senate,

The Joint Librarians of Parliament have the honour to submit their report on the library for the year 1945.

The Supplementary Catalogue of books donated and purchased during 1945 is in course of printing and will be distributed as soon as possible.

The library staff, very much reduced for two or three years past, is now at full strength. The position of Assistant Librarian has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Robert M. Hamilton, B.A., who also holds the degree of Bachelor of Library Science.

Several changes have been made in the library routine which it is hoped will provide Senators and Members with better service, but the Librarians again point out that not until additional adequate shelving space is provided can any attempt be made to institute a really modern system in the Library of Parliament. The Public Works Department has promised us some room in the new Supreme Court Building, but this will be only a minor and temporary relief.

A new system of fluorescent lighting has been installed in two bays of the library. This lighting will be extended throughout the library after the passing of Public Works estimates this session.

The current literature has been procured as far as the resources of the library have permitted. The cost of books and essential services has increased greatly but it is expected that the sum of money withdrawn from the library vote some years ago as a war-time economy will be restored this year.

The statistics of the Library will be presented to the Joint Committee on the Library at its first meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

F. A. HARDY,
FELIX DESROCHERS,
Joint Librarians.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Copp, for the Honourable Senator Robertson, it was—

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it do stand adjourned until to-morrow at half-past two o'clock in the afternoon.

The Senate adjourned.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Robertson, seconded by the Honourable Senator Ballantyne, it was—

Resolved, That an Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor General on the occasion of the termination of His Excellency's official connection with this country, and that the said Address be in the following words:—

To His Excellency Major-General the Right Honourable the Earl of Athlone, Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, a member of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Grand Master of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, Companion of the Distinguished Service Order, one of His Majesty's Personal Aides-de-Camp, Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of the Dominion of Canada.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

We, the Members of the Senate and of the House of Commons of Canada in Parliament assembled, beg leave to convey to Your Excellency an expression of the general feeling of regret with which the people of Canada have learned of the approaching conclusion of your official relationship as the Representative in Canada of His Majesty the King.

Your Excellency's period of office has extended over the most eventful years in the history of the world. It must be a source of profound gratification to you, on your retirement as Governor General, to realize that your years in Canada have witnessed victory over the enemies of freedom, and the emergence of Canada as a world power, with a foremost place among the United Nations.

We cannot bid Your Excellency farewell without expressing our grateful appreciation of your helpful co-operation in the tasks of government through these years of constant anxiety. You have, throughout, given unsparingly of your time and thought to sustain and strengthen the morale of the nation at war. By word and example, you brought courage and cheer to the armed forces, to the auxiliary services, and to the workers in all the fields of wartime production and supply. You lent your support to every worthy national appeal. Universities, schools, hospitals, and other agencies of health and welfare, have all benefited from your personal interest and concern.

Your extensive travels have given Your Excellency an intimate knowledge of our country, its resources and its potential future. You have seen Canada at work under the tragic stimulus of war. You have also watched its industries being converted to the purposes of peace. We are pleased that you have been able to glimpse the broad expanses of our country and that you have found delight in its scenic grandeur. Your journeys to all parts of Canada, including many remote areas, have been greatly appreciated. Wherever you have gone, you have been warmly welcome and will be long remembered.

At no time in Canada's history has our country been visited by so many of the leading personalities of the world. Both at Government House in Ottawa, and at The Citadel in Quebec, you have extended warmest hospitality in the name of Canada.

Throughout your life, Your Excellency has given constant proof of devotion to public service. We do not forget that for seven years you were His Majesty's representative in the Union of South Africa. In Canada, as in South Africa, your unfailing courtesy, your broad and generous sympathies and your wide experience of constitutional government have helped to further the ideals of tolerance and good-will. You have thereby helped to strengthen national unity, and the ties which bind, in close attachment to the Crown, the Nations of the British Commonwealth.

The presence of Your Excellency and Her Royal Highness in Canada has also strengthened the place which the Royal Family holds in the hearts of the Canadian people. We would ask Your Excellency, on your return to the United Kingdom, to convey to Their Majesties the King and Queen, the assurance of Canada's fidelity to the Crown, and of the devotion and affection felt by the Canadian people for Their Majesties. We should be pleased if you would also convey to Queen Mary an expression of our kind remembrance. We hope that in the near future Canada may be honoured by a visit of Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth and the Princess Margaret.

In saying farewell to Your Excellency, we cannot express too warmly our appreciation of the helpful part so graciously taken by Her Royal Highness the Princess Alice in the discharge of Your Excellency's high responsibilities. The active, generous and sympathetic co-operation of Princess Alice in the performance of your public and social duties has won for Her Royal Highness an enduring place in the admiration and affection of the Canadian people. Your Excellency and Her Royal Highness have been as one, in all you have sought to foster of a high sense of public duty and social responsibility.

To your Excellency and Her Royal Highness we extend, on behalf of all Canada, the best of wishes for the future. We hope that, in the eventide of life, you may enjoy together, in health, strength and happiness, the reward of your many years of devoted public service.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Robertson, it was—

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it do stand adjourned until Tuesday, next, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Senate adjourned.

PRAYERS.

The Honourable the Speaker presented to the Senate the reply of The Right Honourable the Earl of Athlone, K.G., to the Address of Farewell presented to him by both Houses of Parliament.

The same was read by the Honourable the Speaker, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate,

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you most sincerely for the kind Address of Farewell which you have presented to me on the occasion of my approaching retirement as Governor General of the Dominion of Canada.

It is with feelings of regret that I am concluding my official relationship as the Representative of His Majesty The King in this country. It has been an honour and a great privilege to have served as Governor General during the most eventful and calamitous years in the history of our time. The period of the war was fraught with innumerable difficulties many of which appeared at the time to be insurmountable. But Parliament and the Canadian people, by their unselfish and untiring devotion to the cause of freedom, played a major part in the victorious struggle of the United Nations against the implacable enemies of democracy.

My numerous tours of this vast country have enabled me to see almost every section of Canada.

I have been a witness of the efficiency, perseverance and courage displayed by the men and women of Canada, whether they served in the Armed Forces or were engaged in factories or in one of the numerous societies which performed such miracles of organization and effectiveness. This ready response to the call to duty was an evidence of the loyalty of the Canadian people to His Majesty the King and to the British Commonwealth of Nations, of which Canada is so important a part.

I am very pleased to record that my relations with the Members of both Houses have been of the happiest.

I shall not fail, on my return to England, to convey to Their Majesties the King and Queen the loyal sentiments so admirably expressed in your address. It will be my pleasure also to convey to Queen Mary your kind remembrances. Her Majesty the Queen Mother has the warmest interest in the people of this country.

I join with you in expressing the hope that Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth and the Princess Margaret may pay a visit to Canada in the near future.

On behalf of Princess Alice I wish to convey to you Her Royal Highness' appreciation for the very kind references you have made to her in your address. These have touched us both very deeply.

We shall never forget what Canada has contributed during the past six difficult and testing years. She earned the admiration and true gratitude of all free peoples for her magnificent and munificent contribution to the victorious prosecution of the war and to the welfare and rehabilitation of the suffering peoples of the world.

In bidding you farewell, Princess Alice and I wish to assure you of our deep and abiding affection and at the same time to express our complete confidence in the continued prosperity of Canada and the maintenance of her proud position as the Senior Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that, in conformity with Rule 103, the Clerk had laid on the Table the Accounts and Vouchers of the Clerk of the Senate for the fiscal year ended the 31st March, 1946.

Ordered, That the said Accounts and Vouchers be referred to the Standing Committee on Internal Economy and Contingent Accounts of the Senate.

F. L. C. PEREIRA,

The Speaker of the Senate,
Ottawa.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Honourable Senator Euler, from the Special Committee appointed to examine into the provisions and workings of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, presented their final Report—Part One.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

FINAL REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE ON TAXATION

PART ONE

On October 31, 1945, a Special Committee of the Senate was constituted with the purpose, as expressed in its Terms of Reference, "of examining into the provisions and workings of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, and to formulate recommendations for the improvement, clarification and simplification of the methods of assessment and collection of taxes thereunder."

On November 15, 1945, the Terms of Reference were amended by the addition of the following words after the word "thereunder"

"And the provisions of the said Acts by redrafting them, if necessary,"

Since its inception on October 31, 1945, your Committee has heard briefs from the following organizations and individuals:

C. Fraser Elliott, K.C., C.M.G., Deputy Minister of National Revenue for Taxation;
Canadian Federation of Agriculture;
Trades and Labour Congress of Canada;
National Life Insurance Company;
Senator A. N. McLean;

Income Taxpayers' Association;
D. A. McGibbon;
Canadian Federation of Labour;
Edmonton Chamber of Commerce;
Canadian Manufacturers' Association;
Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants;
Canadian Bar Association;
Montreal Stock Exchange and Montreal Curb Market;
Joint Stock Insurance Companies;
Canadian Chamber of Commerce;
Toronto Board of Trade;
Certified Public Accountants Association of Ontario;
Canadian Electrical Association;
Senator John T. Haig;
Regina Board of Trade;
Canadian Federation of Insurance Agents;
Confederation Canadienne et Catholique du Travail;
Montreal Chamber of Commerce.

In the main these briefs dealt with those aspects of the Dominion Tax system which impose hardship as being in the opinion of their proponents, inimical to a healthy economic development of this country and to certain rights of the individual. Some of the briefs have suggested remedies or alternative courses of action which might be taken by the Government to remove the objects of criticism.

Having considered the objections, criticisms and remedies stressed by the various organizations heard, it has been thought fit to prepare a report embodying certain conclusions and setting forth certain possible courses of action which might commend themselves as suitable means of reaching a number of the objectives for which your Committee was set up.

Before considering hypothetical suggestions relating to any reorganization of the tax administration or a redraft of the law itself, it is necessary to consider briefly the factors in the field of Dominion taxation which appear to underlie the criticisms voiced by the witnesses. Briefly, public dissatisfaction appears to concern itself with three broad general heads.

1. There is dissatisfaction with the appeal procedure as now found in the Income War Tax Act and with the lack of facilities afforded taxpayers to have cases decided rapidly and objectively. Co-existing with this feeling is the more technical and less widely held objection to the use of ministerial or administrative discretion and to the absolute authority of the administration in many matters of substantive importance.

As exemplifying the widespread discretionary jurisdiction now granted to the Minister of National Revenue, representations have been made which categorize the fields of administrative and ministerial discretion under the following heads:—

- A. Administrative and punitive powers;
- B. Powers which make the minister the judge of reasonableness or equity;
- C. Powers which constitute the minister the judge of the facts;
- D. Powers to grant or refuse exemptions and allowances;
- E. Power to approve a pension fund or plan.

For a detailed analysis of the number and degree of discretionary powers accorded to the Minister of National Revenue, see Appendix A.

2. Secondly, a portion of the criticism which has been received deals with the phrasology of the statute itself. There appears to be a growing feeling among economists, lawyers and accountants throughout Canada that the language of the present Dominion Income War Tax Act is no longer capable of permitting the legislation to fill its proper place in the vastly changed economic structure of the country in the face of concepts of profit and necessary expenditures which now exist when compared with those whose presence helped to shape the original statute in 1917.

3. The third head under which criticism falls is that pertaining to the administrative framework of the Taxation Division itself. Most of these objections are directed to the low salaries paid, delays within the Department, in assessing and the disposition of individual cases, and to the inability of the public to obtain the various inter-office administrative directives that are issued to the District Offices by the Deputy Minister at frequent intervals.

It is our proposal, therefore, that the report be submitted in three parts, each part dealing with remedies applicable to the three main phases of the criticisms received. While this part of the report will be chiefly confined to the criticisms and proposed remedies relating to appeal procedure and the exercise of ministerial discretion, it is felt by your Committee that certain of the suggestions and recommendations made with respect to matters which properly fall into categories 2 and 3 above are of such prime importance that they should be noted briefly at this stage. As much as possible, the suggested solutions are drawn from the briefs presented to us. In a substantial measure, however, the contents of this report also necessarily reflect the conclusions of the committee.

Almost without exception the witnesses who appeared before your Committee urgently advocated a complete revision of the taxing statute to the end that not only may clarity and coherence be achieved but that its provisions be brought into conformity with modern business practice. With this suggestion your committee is in complete accord.

Specific examples cited as illustrative of this need are the present limitative forms of Sections 6 (1) (a) and 16 of the Income War Tax Act. It is suggested that Section 6 (1) (a) be amended to conform with modern accounting practice. While your Committee does not put forward at this time a concrete suggestion in legislative form, it is suggested that the general principles underlying the proposal which was made by Lord Macmillan who presided over the Income Tax Codification Committee appointed in 1926 in England be given serious consideration. This recommendation reads as follows:—

The amount of the profits of a business shall be computed in accordance with the ordinary commercial principles applicable to the computation of the profits of that business.

Moreover, at the present time, there would appear to be no provision in the Income War Tax Act which would allow the taxpayer as a matter of right to maintain his accounts and report his profits on an accrual basis. While the taxing authorities have in most cases recognized this to be a practical necessity for the efficient conduct of modern business, it is recommended that the statute be amended to give clear statutory authority for such practice.

It is also recommended that Section 16 should be so amended as to clearly define a liability which shall be certain and subject to accurate computation arising out of certain alterations in corporate capital structure already referred to in that section. For example, a measure of the liability might be the monetary gain to shareholders occasioned by any capital reorganization or share split which increased their potential equity participation in existing earned surplus rather than by the present ambiguous form of the Section which imposes a charge whose severity lies in the interpretation placed upon the facts by departmental officials.

The continued presence in the statute of Section 32A has been sharply criticized on the grounds that it has created grave uncertainty among taxpayers as to their liability to tax and accordingly your Committee recommends that the Section should be wholly eliminated from the statute.

A further criticism repeatedly voiced by witnesses appearing before your Committee was related to the question of an allowance for depreciation. At the present time, depreciation is referred to under Section 6 (1) (n) where it is expressly prohibited as a deduction save as to such amount as the Minister in his discretion may allow. It is recommended that depreciation be recognized as a charge against profits to which every taxpayer is entitled as of right and that the Income War Tax Act be amended accordingly.

Another recurring complaint in the representations made to your Committee was that directed to the delay which many taxpayers experience in obtaining their assessments. Instances were cited where as many as five years had elapsed before assessment notices issued. While it is recognized that there are situations where such delays might well be unavoidable, it is recommended that the period within which the department must issue a notice of Assessment be reasonably limited by statutory provision. Closely allied with the criticism directed at these delays is the suggestion that interest charges which are now contained in the taxing statutes with respect to underpayment of taxes should be imposed for a period of two years only, unless before the expiration of that period an Interim Notice of Assessment has been mailed to the taxpayer.

Upon the mailing of the Notice of Assessment within the two year period, it is felt that interest should continue to be assessed on any underpayment until the tax is paid in full; or if mailed after the two year period the liability to interest on such underpayment should revive until payment of the amount finally determined to be due. It is further felt that the present rate of interest is too high and that it should be lowered to 4%, at simple interest, a recommendation which your Committee endorses.

One further matter which may be mentioned at this point is that dealing with the deduction of tax at the source. It is felt that this system has met with the endorsement of taxpayers in general throughout the country and should be maintained as a permanent policy in the administration of the Act.

APPEALS

In order that the suggestions and recommendations of your Committee in regard to appeals may be fully appreciated, a summary of the chronological steps involved in the appeal procedure, as presently provided in the statute, is here outlined.

- (a) The taxpayer estimates his income, files a return and pays tax thereon.
- (b) An Assessment Notice is forwarded to the taxpayer over the signature of the Deputy Minister which shows any arrears in the tax estimated or confirms the amount which has been paid.
- (c) If the taxpayer wishes to contest the assessment before the Exchequer Court or to preserve his legal rights of resource thereto while discussing the assessment on its merits with departmental officials, he must file a Notice of Appeal with the Minister of National Revenue within one month after the date of mailing of the Notice of Assessment. This Notice of Appeal sets out all the facts involved and contains a full statement of the reasons upon which the taxpayer intends to rely. If the Notices of Appeal or Dissatisfaction are not filed within the time stipulated by the statute, the taxpayer is barred from further action and the assessment becomes valid and binding, notwithstanding any error, defect or omission therein.

(d) The taxpayer may and usually does discuss the assessment with departmental officials in the District Office and at Ottawa in an informal way. In the event that a satisfactory solution is not found, the taxpayer may continue with his appeal.

(e) Following the mailing of the Notice of Appeal, the Minister issues his decision which is a formal document based on a review of the assessment. The decision may either affirm or amend the assessment.

(f) Within one month from the date of mailing of the Minister's decision, the taxpayer must send by registered mail a Notice of Dissatisfaction. This notice must state all further facts, statutory provisions and reasons which the taxpayer intends to submit to the Court in support of the appeal and which were not included in the Notice of Appeal.

(g) Within one month after the mailing of the Notice of Dissatisfaction, the taxpayer is required to give security for costs in a sum of not less than $400.00.

(h) In the light of all the facts and reasons submitted the Minister sends a reply to the taxpayer and the issues are joined.

(i) Within two months from the date of mailing the reply, the Minister is required to transmit to the Exchequer Court, all the documents set out above and any other material which may affect the disposition of the appeal.

While pleadings are the general rule in practice, technically the Exchequer Court Act appears to permit of trial without pleadings and thus necessitates a Court order that pleadings be filed if they are desired. Consent must, therefore, be obtained to the order for pleadings.

Generally speaking, the rules of practice before the Exchequer Court are elastic and, provided that both sides are given adequate opportunity to object, it would seem that application may be made to the Court for the extension or varying of specific rules according to the extenuating circumstances present in any particular case.

From the decision of the Exchequer Court, an appeal lies to the Supreme Court of Canada if the amount in dispute is in excess of $500.00. A further appeal lies to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, but it should be noted that this is not an appeal as of right, special leave to appeal being required from that body.

Effective Remedies upon Appeal.

Since the appeal from the assessment may, as already indicated eventually find itself a cause in issue before the Exchequer Court, it becomes important to consider the jurisdiction of this Court as granted to it in matters of income taxation by Section 66 of the Income War Tax Act.

Section 66 reads as follows:

Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Exchequer Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions that may arise in connection with any assessment made under this Act and in delivering judgment may make any order as to payment of any tax, interest or penalty or as to costs as to the said Court may seem right and proper.

An ancillary power of the Court in connection with the disposition of an appeal by a taxpayer is found in ss (2) where it is stated that

The Court may refer the matter back to the Minister for further consideration.

It will be noted from the above that under the express language of the statute an appeal is stated to be from an assessment only. This has been confirmed on a number of occasions by the Exchequer Court of Canada and the inference is clear that there is no direct appeal from the exercise of the Minister's discretion per se. The only method by which a taxpayer can attack or even question the exercise of ministerial discretion under the law as presently constituted is by means of taking an appeal to the Exchequer Court and urging that the Court consider the exercise of discretion as one of the factors in the assessment which is appealed against.

The practical effect of such an appeal involving discretion may be judged by the fact that the leading decisions of the Courts in Canada and the United Kingdom in this connection disclose that a Court may only interfere with the exercise of a discretionary power where it appears that

1. The discretion has not really been exercised.
2. It has not been exercised honestly and fairly.
3. The person exercising the discretion was influenced by extraneous and irrelevant facts.
4. The decision was based on principles incorrect in law. Important Canadian cases in this connection are: Pioneer Laundry and Dry Cleaners Limited v. Minister of National Revenue (1940) A.C. 127; Pioneer Laundry and Dry Cleaners Limited v. Minister of National Revenue (1942) Canada Tax Cases 201; The King v. Noxzema Chemical Company of Canada Limited (1942) Canada Tax Cases 21; Nicholson v. Minister of National Revenue (1945) Canada Tax Cases 263, and Wrights' Canadian Ropes Limited v. Minister of National Revenue (1945) Canada Tax Cases 177; (1946) Canada Tax Cases 73.

Accordingly, it is now well established in law that, if the Court determines, by applying the canons of the proper exercise of ministerial discretion, that such discretion has not been properly used, it may only state that the assessment has been erroneously or wrongly levied and refer the matter back to the Minister of National Revenue under subsection (2) of Section 65. In no case may the Court adjudicate upon or substitute its own opinion for the discretionary opinion of the Minister. If the element of discretionary consideration in the assessment has satisfied all the tests of legal propriety as above set forth then, assuming the assessment to be otherwise in order, the court may not interfere in any way with the conclusions of the Minister or the issue of the assessment. If however, discretion has been improperly exercised in the light of the established legal principles all that the Court may do is to refer the assessment back to the Minister to be considered again.

Thus, under the present statute and the case law, there does not appear to be an instance where the Court can review the actual substance of the Minister's discretion, even if improperly exercised, or substitute its opinion for the Minister's, if it so desires.

SUGGESTED REMEDIES

Your Committee has been greatly impressed by the urgency of the criticism directed at the appeal provisions as presently existing in the taxing statutes and the lack of an independent tribunal to which the taxpayer may appeal in the first instance when dissatisfied with his assessment. The effective bar to a successful appeal to the Exchequer Court of Canada under the present law in cases where the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the exercise of discretionary powers has already been pointed out.

The Deputy Minister of National Revenue for Taxation, who in the initial hearings of the Committee gave evidence touching on various aspects of the administration of the taxing statutes, appeared again at the request of the Committee after the other witnesses had been heard and presented his views as to the advisability of establishing a Board of Tax Appeals. In this connection, he expressed himself as being in favour of establishing a Board which would operate as a court of first instance to hear appeals from assessments on questions of law only. Insofar as appeals from assessments which originated from the exercise of ministerial or administrative discretion were concerned, however, he indicated that he was not in favour of superimposing an appeal board to consider or review the exercise of discretion as to its substance. He indicated, however, that it might be possible to establish a committee which would act in an advisory capacity to the Minister and to which the taxpayer or the Minister might refer questions arising from the exercise of discretion for consideration and advice. This committee, he thought, would function in a somewhat similar manner to the Board of Referees as described in Section 13 of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, but should not be independent of the Minister of National Revenue.

It was suggested by the Deputy Minister that should a matter of discretion arise with which the taxpayer was dissatisfied, he might apply to the Minister to have the application of the discretionary power reviewed by this advisory body and that the taxpayer should be permitted to make all necessary representations thereto. Mr. Elliott indicated, however, that the findings of the Board or Committee should, in essence be advisory only and that should the Minister of National Revenue desire to adhere to a conclusion differing with the findings of the Board, no further review or appeal should be provided but that, as is the case under the presently enacted legislation, the decision of the Minister in respect thereto should be final and conclusive.

Your Committee has given consideration to these submissions of the Deputy Minister and has concluded that they represent a direct conflict of opinion with the suggestion advanced by other witnesses in briefs and examinations, with which suggestions your Committee agrees in principle as will be hereafter shown.

BOARD OF TAX APPEALS

As a result of the consideration and study of the Appeal Procedure and Tax Court suggestions made to your Committee by all the witnesses during the aforementioned hearings, and benefiting from assistance provided in the briefs submitted, it is recommended that the following principles be adhered to as conditions precedent to any solution that may be reached in this phase of the problem.

The first important consideration which appeared repeatedly throughout the hearings and which is felt to be a fundamental principle in this connection is that the Board of Tax Appeals, when established in whatever form considered desirable, should be entirely divorced from and independent of the control of that Department of Government which is charged with the levying and collecting of taxes.

The second consideration which is equally important is that the administering officials of the Department which levies and collects the taxes be not accorded any authority relating to the exercise of administrative or ministerial discretion, the levying of assessments, or the imposition of penalties which is not subject to the immediate, effective and conclusive jurisdiction of an independent tribunal. It is felt that this jurisdiction should relate not only to the formal proceedings and departmental directives but to the underlying considerations of fact which enter into the exercise of such authority by the Minister of National Revenue and his administering officials.

With these two cardinal principles in mind, your Committee recommends that there be constituted a Board of Tax Appeals either by a separate Statute of the Dominion Parliament or by some appropriate amendment to the taxing statutes. It is felt desirable that this Board should bear such a name as that of "Board of Tax Appeals for Canada" and that it should have the authority and jurisdiction in matters of fact and of law of a court of record.

It is further recommended that, in addition to having the judicial powers of a court of record, such Board be also empowered to dispose of questions arising on matters of fact which may enter into a determination of the law relating to the proper construction of the aforementioned statutes, and, moreover, that it have full power to hear and determine any appeal made by a taxpayer from an assessment under the Act. In this connection it is also recommended that the Board should, for the purposes of entertaining and disposing of appeals from assessments have the statutory authority to exercise all the powers and discretions of whatever nature as may now be vested in the Minister of National Revenue under any of the provisions of the Income War Tax Act or the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, or any such powers as may be imported into them at any subsequent time by legislative or administrative authority.

It is recommended that the Board should be composed of not less than 7 members. There should be sufficient authority in the statute setting up the Board to increase the total number where circumstances make it desirable. In the opinion of your Committee, the Chairman, Deputy Chairman and one other member of the Board should be qualified legal practitioners of any Province of Canada with at least ten years' standing. Two additional members, it is felt should be professional accountants of at least ten years standing and that the remaining members be representatives of the taxpaying community. At least two of the members so appointed should be bilingual. It is further recommended that in order to ensure the appointment of experienced and properly qualified men, provision should be made for the payment of adequate salaries commensurate with the positions created. It is suggested that the members of the Board be appointed for a term of 10 years and that they should be eligible for reappointment.

It is recommended that the Board be established at Ottawa but that it be given full authority to travel and to hold sittings at any place in the Dominion of Canada as circumstances may demand. At any hearing of the Board, a quorum of three should be required to be presided over by either the Chairman or the Deputy Chairman.

The Board of Tax Appeals as here contemplated would thus take its place as a court of first instance below the Exchequer Court of Canada.

Instead of a taxpayer receiving, as is now the case, a Notice of Assessment after his return has been filed and the appropriate auditing on the part of the departmental officials has been effected, it is recommended that the Minister of National Revenue issue to each taxpayer at that point in the proceedings, a document entitled a "Notice of Intention to Assess". This "Notice of Intention to Assess" should, like the Notice of Assessment under the present statute, verify or alter the amount of the tax as estimated and reported by the taxpayer in his return. It is recommended that the taxing authorities be required to issue such notice to every taxpayer within two years from the date of mailing of his income tax return. Following the issue of such "Notice of Intention to Assess", provision should be made that the taxpayer have 30 days from the date of mailing of such Notice within which to lodge a "Notice of Objection" with the Minister, should he be of the opinion that the amount of tax to which the "Notice of Intention to Assess" indicates him to be liable is excessive or for any reason unwarranted.

The Notice of Objection should be in writing and should set out in detail the grounds upon which it is based. Service of such Notice should be effected by mailing the same by registered post addressed to the Minister of National Revenue at Ottawa.

Upon receipt of the said "Notice of Objection", the Minister of National Revenue should duly consider it and, within 60 days from the date of mailing thereof, forward by registered post to the objecting taxpayer a formal Notice of Assessment either affirming or amending the Notice of Intention to Assess.

If the objector, after receipt of the said Notice of Assessment, is dissatisfied therewith it should be provided that he may, within 30 days from the date of the mailing of such Notice of Assessment forward, addressed to the Minister by registered mail, a formal Notice of Appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals which should set out any additional facts, statutory provisions or other information upon which he wishes to rely and which were not included in the original Notice of Objection.

It is recommended that within 15 days from the date of mailing of the Notice of Appeal, the Minister be required either to allow the appeal or to refer it to the Board of Tax Appeals notifying the appellant taxpayer accordingly. In the event that the appeal is referred to the Board, the following documents should be forwarded by the Minister to the Registrar of the Board:

- A. The income tax return of the appellant, if any, for the period under review.
- B. The Notice of Intention to Assess.
- C. The Notice of Assessment.
- D. The Notice of Appeal.
- E. All other documents and papers relative to the assessment under appeal.

It is recommended that the appellant be required to furnish security for costs to the satisfaction of the Board in a sum of not more than $10.00 when the amount in dispute is less than $200.00 and not more than $25.00 when the amount in issue is in excess of $200.00. The matter should then be deemed to be an issue before the said Board ready for hearing provided however that if it be deemed advisable by the Board or a member thereof that pleadings be filed an order may issue directing the parties to file pleadings.

Within 15 days from the receipt by the Board of all the aforementioned documents and papers relative to the assessment, the Board should notify the Minister of National Revenue and the appellant of a date for hearing. After the appeal has been set down for hearing, as above provided, any fact or statutory provision not set out in the said Notice of Objection or Notice of Appeal may be pleaded or referred to in such manner and upon such terms as the Board or any member thereof may direct. Either party to the appeal might appear in person or by his agent. All hearings of the Board should be held in camera, unless the parties otherwise agree.

Rules of procedure relating to the conduct of the hearings should be those as may be issued from time to time by the Board of Tax Appeals.

Following the hearing and consideration of the appeal by the Board, it is recommended that the decision and the reasons in support of it should be given in writing and made public and that copies be forwarded to the Minister of National Revenue and to the appellant. Such decision would be conclusive in its determination of the issue before the Board and binding on both parties.

It is recommended that provision should be made for an appeal from the decision of the Board of Tax Appeals to the Exchequer Court of Canada similar to the presently existing right of appeal to that Court from the decision of the Minister. Accordingly, if either the Minister of National Revenue or the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Tax Appeals, an appeal would lie from its decision to the Exchequer Court. The party launching such an appeal should be required, within 30 days of the date of mailing of the Board's decision, to file a Notice of Appeal with the Registrar of the Board who would thereupon transmit the record of the proceedings to the Exchequer Court. For a specific suggestion as to the form which the legislation may take in setting up the Board of Tax Appeals see Appendix B.

It is felt by your Committee that if a Board of Tax Appeals is established as indicated above, three principal objections raised by the majority of witnesses, as already described, will be suitably met.

1. The taxpayer will be provided with a speedy and inexpensive tribunal to which he may take all disputes arising from assessments including questions of fact, of law and of the exercise of ministerial or administrative discretion, and he will be assured of an impartial and considered adjudication in the course of which the Board may substitute its opinion on all matters for that of the Minister of National Revenue, or of any administrative tribunal whose decision has entered into the making of the assessment.

2. By the fact that the decision of the Board will have considered and, if necessary, varied or confirmed the exercise of discretionary power, the flexibility of the statute will remain unimpaired since the necessity to remove entirely the discretionary authority now contained therein will be somewhat modified while the administering official acting for the Minister of National Revenue will be afforded guides of increasing usefulness as a body of jurisprudence is established relating to the proper exercise of such discretion in a variety of instances.

3. The accumulation of a body of precedent through publication of the decisions and their supporting reasons of the Board of Tax Appeals, which decisions will in many cases inevitably be the result of contestations arising out of the application of departmental directives and rulings, will tend to diminish the force of and the need for such rulings within the Department. In addition thereto, this body of precedent will assist in the clarification of many sections of the taxing statutes now obscure for want of official interpretation and will in turn diminish to some extent the need to redraft portions of the statutes since those sections, which are now charged with ambiguity by the public and administering officials, will perforce obtain certainty, if not clarity, from the application to them of the decisions of the Board.

The whole respectfully submitted.

W. D. EULER,
Chairman.

The Honourable Senator Fallis from the Joint Committee on the Library of Parliament, presented their first Report.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

1946

FIRST REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT

Your Committee begs to present its first report on the Library of Parliament.

Your Committee held a meeting on May 22, 1946, and received from the Joint Librarians a report which was unanimously adopted, and which reads as follows:—

The Librarians have been asked by the Speaker of the House of Commons, Dr. Gaspard Fauteux, to make a report on the state of the Library in the form of answers to certain questions which were submitted to him by a Member of Parliament. The questions and answers are as follows:—

Question One:

The total number of books received by the Library to date?

Answer:

This can be estimated only, because in the early days of the Library no accession records were kept. A reasonable estimate would be about 500,000 volumes, not including pamphlets. Of the latter the Library has 1,180 bound volumes of Canadian pamphlets; and 1,557 pamphlet cases containing American, English, and Canadian unbound pamphlets.

Question Two:

The number of books bound by the Library for each of the years since 1940?

Answer:

During 1945, which is typical of the last five years, 658 volumes were bound on the premises by the Library's two bookbinders; and 464 volumes, mostly newspapers and periodicals, were bound for the Library by the Printing Bureau.

Question Three:

The number of books loaned by the Library in each of the years since 1940?

Question Four:

The number of pamphlets, etc., ditto?

Answer:

Due to the extreme shortage of staff during the years 1941 to 1945 it is impossible to give figures for the years 1940 to 1944; the following figures are for 1945 only:

Total number of catalogued books lent	23,028
“ “ “ pamphlets lent	377
“ “ “ newspapers lent	29
“ “ “ periodicals lent	642
Statutes, debates, journals, sessional papers, etc., about	575

Question Five:

The number of books out on loan as at December 31 in each of the years 1940 to 1945 inclusive?

Answer:

Books out on loan on December 1, 1945	3,860 vols.
Pamphlets out on loan on December 1, 1945	160 “
Debates (H. of C. and Senate) on loan on December 1, 1945	63 “
Statutes (H. of C. and Senate) out on loan on December 1, 1945	55 “
Journals (H. of C. and Senate) out on loan on December 1, 1945	7 “

Question Six:

The total number of books returned to the library in each of the years 1940 to 1945 inclusive?

Answer:

The number of catalogued books returned to the Library in 1945 was 19,140. Very few pamphlets, statutes, sessional papers, etc., were still charged as of December 31, 1945.

Question Seven:

The number of valuable books ($4 and over) which have been on loan for three years or more?

Answer:

For reasons stated above, and because books of the value stated form the great majority of non-fiction, upon which most of the Library's annual vote is spent, we are not able to supply figures.

Question Eight:

The number of such books which the Librarians consider irrecoverable?

Answer:

The Librarians hesitate to say that any books are irrecoverable. It often happens that books charged out for many years and given up for lost are returned to the Library. However, an indefinite number of books may be considered as lost temporarily when the original borrower, whether Senator, Member, or Civil Servant in the course of his parliamentary or governmental duties loses track of a book which he has passed along to a colleague or superior for consultation or information. Perhaps the following figures will give an idea of the books which may have been lost to the Library in the last fifteen years:

Books on accounts of Senators and Members who died, were defeated, or retired, before 1935 and still outstanding	245
Books on accounts of Senators and Members who died, were defeated, or retired, at the end of 1940, and still outstanding	88
Books on accounts of Senators and Members who died, were defeated, or retired, at the end of 1945, and still outstanding	74

As for the mutilation of books: while this offense was quite common fifteen or twenty years ago, today we see scarcely any evidence of it. This may be due to the fact that rules forbidding the circulation of newspapers and valuable documents, except to Ministers or very responsible persons, are strictly enforced.

Question Nine:

The number of books which the Librarians consider could be transferred to some other building or library to make room for newer material which is more likely to be used?

Answer:

This depends on the use, or non-use, of such books. If for storage purposes, we could remove from the library 150,000 or more volumes. Should a National Library be created we could probably add to this number another 100,000 volumes providing they were still readily accessible to Senators and Members.

Questions Ten and Twelve:

The number of persons employed by the Library, the period of such employment and the rates of pay?
The number of years of service of each employee?

Answer:

Question Eleven:

The number of weeks holiday allowed each of these employees in each year?

Answer:

Twenty-six working days for those members of the staff, mostly permanent, who work extra hours during the sessions of Parliament. Eighteen working days for temporary employees who do not work extra hours.

Following these questions the Librarians are also asked to make recommendations with regard to the following:

- (1) Providing room for extra reading material for the Library.

Answer:

The Library, as has been stated so often, is in desperate need of more space. In its present quarters books even have to be, in places, piled on the floor. One solution would be the provision of another building in which could be kept certain sections of the Library, such as old newspapers, old Canadian, British, and American sessional papers, bound periodicals, and earlier editions of yearbooks, city directories, legal manuals, trade and financial services, all of which would be referred to very infrequently. Another suggestion for relieving the congestion in the Library is to inaugurate a program of microfilming the bound newspapers. This would be a comparatively expensive project, but a start could be made by purchasing a microfilm reading machine and obtaining the microfilm editions of a number of leading newspapers such as the Globe and Mail, Vancouver Colonist, Winnipeg Free Press, Hamilton Spectator, Ottawa Citizen, Montreal Gazette, New York Times, etc., etc. It is expected also that some microfilming of older newspapers will soon be done by various interested bodies.

A third suggestion is the possibility put forward by the Public Works Department some twenty years ago of adding to the Library building by means of a subterranean annex on either side or at the rear. This might be expensive, but no more so than a new building.

- (2) Changes in lighting.

Answer:

As stated in our report to Parliament, the Public Works Department commenced last year to instal a new system of lighting but were held up by lack of funds after finishing about two alcoves. Unfortunately no provision was made in the main estimates of this year for completing the installation. We are informed that supplementary estimates will contain a provision for this outlay and we sincerely hope that it will be approved by the Treasury Board and afterwards by Parliament.

- (3) Recommendations regarding salaries, schedules, hours of work, working conditions of the staff.

Answer:

The Librarians submit that the present classification of the staff is badly in need of revision, and have suggested to the Civil Service Commission that they should make a complete survey of the staff as organized. In the last three years we have lost two employees holding the position of Registry and Shelving Clerk, which requires qualifications of University and Library Science degrees but pays a maximum salary of only $1,920, which is also the maximum salary of a constable of the Protective Staff. Other positions are comparable. The Civil Service Commission agrees that, under the terms of a Treasury Board circular letter of April 21, 1945, respecting reclassification on the grounds of gross inequality or gross injustice, such a survey should be undertaken. The Librarians also recommend that in anticipation of the reclassification of staff and the inevitable redisposal or storage of some of the books, and to improve generally the cataloguing procedure, that there be employed on a temporary basis one trained cataloguer and one experienced typist-filer, with a view to partial recataloguing of the books on a basis long established by the Library of Congress. This project we have already begun, but it is proceeding very slowly because we have no staff member to whom it can be assigned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) FELIX DESROCHERS,
General Librarian;

(Signed) F. A. HARDY,
Parliamentary Librarian.

Your Committee begs to submit the following recommendations:

1. That the necessary steps should be taken to redecorate the interior of the Library, and to replace by hot water the steam heating system at present in use in the central part of the Library.

2. That in order to relieve the congestion in the Library the Government consider the necessity of providing accommodation for the storage of all books and material which the Librarians consider superfluous to the present needs of the Library of Parliament. Such material could later on form the nucleus of a National Library, which your Committee felt should be located in Ottawa, and the need for which has so long been recognized.

3. That a program of microfilming bound newspapers be inaugurated by the purchasing of a microfilm reading machine and the acquisition of the already existing microfilm editions of a number of leading newspapers.

4. That the installation of the new system of lighting, commenced last year, be completed as soon as possible.

5. That a reclassification of the staff of the Library be made by the Civil Service Commission, and that there be added to the temporary staff one trained cataloguer and one expert library typist-filer, with a view to proceeding with the partial recataloguing of books after Library of Congress methods, and also, an apprentice to be trained by the present skilled bookbinders.

6. That the report of the Joint Librarians be adopted.

The Honourable Senator Murdock from the Standing Committee on Immigration and Labour, to whom was referred the Bill (L-5), intituled: "An Act to amend The Unemployment Insurance Act, 1940", presented the following Report:—

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

The Committee has been informed that the Government proposes to recommend amendments to this Bill which will involve substantial charges on the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The proposals alter the character of the Bill making it a Money Bill which, under the provisions of the British North America Act, must originate in the House of Commons and be first recommended to that House by message of the Governor General. In these circumstances, it is the opinion of the Committee that the Bill should be returned to the Senate with the recommendation that it be withdrawn, and that consideration of this subject be deferred until the Bill from the House of Commons reaches the Senate.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. H. HAYDEN,
Deputy Chairman.

Ordered, That the said amendments be taken into consideration to-morrow.

The Honourable Senator Donnelly from the Standing Committee on Natural Resources presented their fourth Report:—

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

WEDNESDAY, 19th June, 1946.

The Standing Committee on Natural Resources beg leave to make their fourth report, as follows:

The Committee have in obedience to the Order of Reference of the 2nd May, 1946, examined into the economic value of Metalliferous Mines in Canada.

In the course of its inquiry the Committee has heard briefs submitted by:

The Ontario Mining Association;
The Western Quebec Mining Association;
The Toronto Stock Exchange;
The Mid-West Metal Mining Association;
The Prospectors and Developers Association, and
The British Columbia and Yukon Chamber of Mines.

The following witnesses were also heard:

Mr. Sidney Norman, Special Writer, The Toronto Globe and Mail;
Mr. A. W. Hawkey, Chemist, Royal Canadian Mint;
Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance;
Dr. Charles Camsell, C.M.G., former Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, and

Mr. W. H. Losee, Director of the Industrial Census, Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Although the scope of the Order of Reference provided for an examination into the economic value of metalliferous mines in Canada, no representations were submitted on behalf of the base metal mines or any silver mining interests. Accordingly this report is confined to dealing with the submissions made before the Committee on behalf of the gold mining industry of Canada.

Reference, however, is made briefly to the position of the base metals and silver. They enjoy open world markets, and to that extent are different from gold, which has a fixed price. It should be pointed out, too, that the production of all metals in Canada in the period of 1907 to 1944 inclusive amounted to approximately $6,000,000,000. During this period the value of the production of gold amounted to approximately $2,500,000,000. The importance of the contribution in peace and in war of the base metal mines to Canada cannot be too much stressed. However, in this Report, since the submissions made and the evidence given to the Committee dealt with the position of the gold mining industry, attention will be directed particularly to the position and importance and problems of that industry.

During the war years, due to increasing costs of labour, essential materials and equipment and the restrictive regulations in respect thereof, the maximum annual production of the gold mines in Canada was reduced. At the present time these higher costs for supplies, equipment and labour threaten soon to exhaust the narrow margin of average profit earned according to the statements filed on behalf of the gold mining interests of Ontario and Quebec for the year 1944. In 1944 the profit per ton on ore milled had fallen to $1.94 per ton in Ontario, and during the same period, according to the Department of Mines for the Province of Quebec, the net surplus earned per ton of ore produced in Western Quebec was .62 cents per ton. It will be seen, therefore, that rising costs, together with the fixed price for gold, are closing the gap between the cost of producing gold and the price realized to the extent that the margin of profit is making it more and more unprofitable to mine low grade ores. In these circumstances the picture for the gold mining industry, at this time, is not a happy one. Any further increase in costs will convert into waste rock, so far as gold production is concerned, more of the ore reserves presently reckoned as of value to the producing mines and will, at the same time, reduce the tonnage of available ores for new mines to the extent that the increasing costs make it unprofitable to mine lower grade or marginal ores.

In addition, during the war ore reserves of producing gold mines were decreased in order to maintain some measure of profitable production. Development work was also drastically curtailed due to shortage of labour and materials. Both of these items, namely, maintenance of substantial ore reserves and the opening up of new sources of ore by continuous development, are essential to give assurance of continued profitable operation in the best interests of the particular shareholders, as well as the industry generally and the country.

A considerable amount of exploration work, including diamond drilling, was carried on in the different mining areas during the war years. There are many properties today moving towards the position of producing mines, but substantially increased costs of all labour, materials and equipment, as well as the heavy impost of corporate taxation on producing mines, make the task of bringing new mines into production very difficult.

Most prospective new mines have expended their capital in the exploration and development of their properties and in proving up the commercial value of their ore. Very often the last stage of providing a mill has to be financed on borrowed money. At this time the increased costs and the rates of corporate income taxation are such that low grade ores cannot be profitably milled and the prospective life of many of the new mines is not such as to merit the additional capital required for the development of the property.

There must also be added to these considerations in relation to the new mines, the fixed price for gold which prevents the recovery by the mine from its production of the increased costs of operations and taxes through an increased price for the product.

Both producing mines and new mines are faced with a definite shortening of their mining life through such a burden of increased costs and taxes, which makes unprofitable the mining of marginal ores.

The gold mining industry of Canada is one of our most substantial industries. In 1941 it produced over $200,000,000. It has no marketing problem. Most of this money is spent in Canada for labour, supplies and equipment, with consequent indirect employment in almost every line of endeavour.

The economic value to Canada of this gold mining industry is two-fold. It provides a large field for employment and the earning of income directly in the prospecting, exploring and developing necessary in the search for and the proving of mines, and in the operations of producing mines and indirectly in the production of materials, equipment and supplies required in such operations. Secondly, it provides a continuing source of a strategic mineral for adjustment of our international trade balances, and for implementing our agreements in relation to international trade, all of which is of immeasurable value to Canada. To illustrate the economic value of the gold mining industry to Canada reference is made to one or two statements filed in the brief of the Ontario Mining Association which is copied into the proceedings of the Committee. For instance, in the year 1941 Ontario produced about $123,000,000 worth of gold. This $123,000,000 was paid out or utilized for the following purposes:

Wages	$42,000,000 00
Fuel and power.....	6,000,000 00
Supplies	14,000,000 00
Freight and refining, etc.....	2,000,000 00
Depreciation of Plant.....	7,000,000 00
Taxes	14,000,000 00
Dividends to Shareholders.....	35,000,000 00
Surplus	3,000,000 00

The purchase of mining and milling equipment and general supplies included in these figures covered such items as lumber and timber of all kinds in the amount of approximately $2,850,000. Electric power approximately $4,500,000. Explosives approximately $4,700,000, and numerous other items, including building materials, cars and locomotives, electrical equipment, various types of machinery, tools and chemicals. The item of freight amounted to approximately $2,500,000.

It was estimated by the witnesses who appeared before your Committee that one miner working in the gold mines supported and provided work for at least four other persons in Canada. This will serve, in a general way, to give some outline in skeleton of the extent and importance of the operations of the gold mines of Canada to the industrial and agricultural and financial life of the country.

The population of the various mining areas contributes substantially to the support of the farming industry in these mining areas. The farming industry in the various provinces of Canada where mining operations are carried on benefits generally through the requirements of the mining population which is a large consumer of agricultural products. In addition, the continued production of gold contributes much to the international stability of Canada in her trade and currency relations with other countries.

Lack of understanding of the position and economic value of the gold mining industry in Canada would appear to be a major cause of the present situation of this industry.

As a matter of settled government policy there is no free market for gold. The government takes the entire annual production of the gold mines of Canada. Since this gold production is utilized for the general advantage of Canada in the adjustment of international trade balances, and to aid in Canada's participation in the field of international trade relations, your Committee submits that the importance of this industry merits such action as will provide for a profitable operation and so maintain and expand the operations of this industry in Canada.

It takes more than a Midas touch to recover gold from the ground. The public who provide the financing necessary to carry a property through to production require some assurance of profitable operation to justify their provision of risk capital.

The percentage of mining properties that develop into producing mines is very small in relation to the number of such properties prospected, explored and developed. In Ontario one in one hundred properties reaches the development stage, one-half of one per cent are successful mines.

The risk capital that supports such efforts which do not reach the stage of producing mines is lost to the shareholders, but the country has gained in employment of labour and through consumption of supplies and equipment necessary to such efforts.

It should hardly be necessary to add that new mines from the moment of commencement of production are wasting assets.

In the opinion of the Committee the value of this industry to our Canadian economy is so great that it is recommended that steps be now taken to assure not only the maintenance of the industry on a profitable basis, but its continued development and expansion. To this end your Committee submits the following recommendations for your earnest consideration and, if approved, for such action as may be necessary by the proper authorities to implement such recommendations.

PART I

In respect of new mines, it is recommended that:—

- (a) the provisions of Part 13 of the Income War Tax Act, Section 89 of the said Act (which ceased to have any effect after December 31, 1942) be re-enacted so that new mines hereafter coming into production shall be exempt from corporation income tax for the first three fiscal periods following the commencement of production and in addition the rate of corporation income tax for the next two fiscal periods be 50 per cent of the rate then applicable generally to corporations;
- (b) That the run-in or tuning-up period of six months be continued as in the past, in which no corporation income tax shall be payable, preceding commencement of production for purposes of the exemption recommended in paragraph (a) hereof, in order that the milling operations may be fully tested and the staff and workmen efficiently trained. It should be pointed out that during the time when Section 89 of the Income War Tax Act was in force this run-in or tuning-up period was allowed and recognized as a matter of administrative practice and no corporation income tax was assessed for such period;
- (c) A depletion allowance of 50 per cent for the exhaustion of the mine shall be allowed to be deducted before determining the amount which shall be subject to income tax. Your Committee, in the light of the submissions made by those who appeared and presented briefs, has reached the conclusion that the present allowance of $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent is too low and that the depletion allowance should be restored to 50 per cent which was the rate allowed prior to 1934.

- (d) Depreciation be not required to be charged during the period of exemption provided in paragraph (a) hereof at a greater amount than the annual earnings of the corporation.

PART II

In respect of producing mines your Committee recommends that the depletion allowance of 50 per cent provided under paragraph (c) of Part I, in respect of new mines, be also allowed to producing mines.

PART III—GENERAL

Your Committee further recommends that the minting charges for gold minted for the industry be the actual cost of such minting only.

Your Committee further recommends, for the consideration of the proper governmental authority based on the representations made before this Committee, that the services of the Department of Mines and Resources be expanded in the interest of the gold mining industry of Canada for the purpose of providing for geological surveys and aerial mapping.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

That whereas by the British North America Act, 1867 it is provided that in respect of representation in the House of Commons the Province of Quebec shall have the fixed number of sixty-five members;

And whereas the said Act provides that there shall be assigned to each of the other provinces such a number of members as will bear the same proportion to the number of its population as the number sixty-five bears to the number of the population of Quebec;

And whereas the said Act provides for the readjustment of representation on the completion of each decennial census, and that on any such readjustment the number of members for a province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the province bore to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding readjustment of the number of members for the province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one twentieth part or upwards;

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty:
Most Gracious Sovereign:

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Senate of Canada in Parliament assembled, humbly approach Your Majesty, praying that You may graciously be pleased to cause a measure to be laid before the Parliament of the United Kingdom to be expressed as follows:—

5. Such readjustment shall not take effect until the Termination of the then existing Parliament.

(2) The Yukon Territory as constituted by Chapter forty-one of the Statutes of Canada, 1901, together with any part of Canada not comprised within a province which may from time to time be included therein by the Parliament of Canada for the purposes of representation in Parliament, shall be entitled to one member.

Pursuant to the Order of the Day, the Senate resumed the adjourned debate on the motion of the Honourable Senator Robertson, seconded by the Honourable Senator Foster—

That whereas by the British North America Act, 1867 it is provided that in respect of representation in the House of Commons the Province of Quebec shall have the fixed number of sixty-five members;

And whereas the said Act provides that there shall be assigned to each of the other provinces such a number of members as will bear the same proportion to the number of its population as the number sixty-five bears to the number of the population of Quebec;

And whereas the said Act provides for the readjustment of representation on the completion of each decennial census, and that on any such readjustment the number of members for a province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the province bore to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding readjustment of the number of members for the province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one twentieth part or upwards;

And whereas the effect of the aforesaid provisions has not been satisfactory in that proportionate representation of the provinces according to population has not been maintained;

And whereas it is considered that a more equitable apportionment of members to the various provinces could be effected if readjustment were made on the basis of the population of all the provinces taken as a whole:—

A humble address be presented to His Majesty The King in the following words:—

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty:
Most Gracious Sovereign:

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Senate of Canada in Parliament assembled, humbly approach Your Majesty, praying that You may graciously be pleased to cause a measure to be laid before the Parliament of the United Kingdom to be expressed as follows:—

An Act to provide for the readjustment of representation in the House of Commons of Canada on the basis of the population of Canada;

Whereas the Senate and House of Commons of Canada in Parliament assembled have submitted an address to His Majesty praying that His Majesty may graciously be pleased to cause a Bill to be laid before the Parliament of the United Kingdom for the enactment of the provisions hereinafter set forth;

Be it therefore enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

1. Section fifty-one of the British North America Act, 1867, is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor:

51. (1) The number of members of the House of Commons shall be Two hundred and fifty-five and the representation of the provinces therein shall forthwith upon the coming into force of this section and thereafter on the completion of each decennial census be readjusted by such authority, in such manner, and from such time as the Parliament of Canada from time to time provides, subject and according to the following Rules:

1. Subject as hereinafter provided, there shall be assigned to each of the provinces a number of members computed by dividing the total population of the provinces by Two hundred and fifty-four and by dividing the population of each province by the quotient so obtained, disregarding, except as hereinafter in this section provided, the remainder, if any, after the said process of division.

2. If the total number of members assigned to all the provinces pursuant to Rule One is less than Two hundred and fifty-four, additional members shall be assigned to the provinces (one to a province) having remainders in the computation under Rule One commencing with the province having the largest remainder and continuing with the other provinces in the order of the magnitude of their respective remainders until the total number of members assigned is Two hundred and fifty-four.

3. Notwithstanding anything in this section, if upon the completion of a computation under Rules One and Two, the number of members to be assigned to a province is less than the number of senators representing the said province, Rules One and Two shall cease to apply in respect of the said province, and there shall be assigned to the said province a number of members equal to the said number of senators.

4. In the event that Rules One and Two cease to apply in respect of a province then, for the purpose of computing the number of members to be assigned to the provinces in respect of which Rules One and Two continue to apply, the total population of the provinces shall be reduced by the number of the population of the province in respect of which Rules One and Two have ceased to apply and the number Two hundred and fifty-four shall be reduced by the number of members assigned to such province pursuant to Rule Three.

5. Such readjustment shall not take effect until the Termination of the then existing Parliament.

(2) The Yukon Territory as constituted by Chapter forty-one of the Statutes of Canada, 1901, together with any part of Canada not comprised within a province which may from time to time be included therein by the Parliament of Canada for the purposes of representation in Parliament, shall be entitled to one member.

2. This Act may be cited as the British North America Act, 1946, and the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1943, the British North America Act, 1907 and this Act may be cited together as the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1946.

After debate, it was—

Ordered, That further debate on the said motion be adjourned until to-morrow.

The Senate adjourned.

Pursuant to the Order of the Day, the Senate resumed the adjourned debate on the motion of the Honourable Senator Robertson, seconded by the Honourable Senator Foster—

That whereas by the British North America Act, 1867 it is provided that in respect of representation in the House of Commons the Province of Quebec shall have the fixed number of sixty-five members;

And whereas the said Act provides that there shall be assigned to each of the other provinces such a number of members as will bear the same proportion to the number of its population as the number sixty-five bears to the number of the population of Quebec;

And whereas the said Act provides for the readjustment of representation on the completion of each decennial census, and that on any such readjustment the number of members for a province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the province bore to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding readjustment of the number of members for the province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one twentieth part or upwards;

And whereas the effect of the aforesaid provisions has not been satisfactory in that proportionate representation of the provinces according to population has not been maintained;

And whereas it is considered that a more equitable apportionment of members to the various provinces could be effected if readjustment were made on the basis of the population of all the provinces taken as a whole:—

A humble address be presented to His Majesty The King in the following words:—

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty:

Most Gracious Sovereign:

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Senate of Canada in Parliament assembled, humbly approach Your Majesty, praying that You may graciously be pleased to cause a measure to be laid before the Parliament of the United Kingdom to be expressed as follows:—

An Act to provide for the readjustment of representation in the House of Commons of Canada on the basis of the population of Canada;

Whereas the Senate and House of Commons of Canada in Parliament assembled have submitted an address to His Majesty praying that His Majesty may graciously be pleased to cause a Bill to be laid before the Parliament of the United Kingdom for the enactment of the provisions hereinafter set forth;

Be it therefore enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

1. Section fifty-one of the British North America Act, 1867, is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor:

51. (1) The number of members of the House of Commons shall be Two hundred and fifty-five and the representation of the provinces therein shall forthwith upon the coming into force of this section and thereafter on the completion of each decennial census be readjusted by such authority, in such manner, and from such time as the Parliament of Canada from time to time provides, subject and according to the following Rules:

1. Subject as hereinafter provided, there shall be assigned to each of the provinces a number of members computed by dividing the total population of the provinces by Two hundred and fifty-four and by dividing the population of each province by the quotient so obtained, disregarding, except as hereinafter in this section provided, the remainder, if any, after the said process of division.

2. If the total number of members assigned to all the provinces pursuant to Rule One is less than Two hundred and fifty-four, additional members shall be assigned to the provinces (one to a province) having remainders in the computation under Rule One commencing with the province having the largest remainder and continuing with the other provinces in the order of the magnitude of their respective remainders until the total number of members assigned is Two hundred and fifty-four.

3. Notwithstanding anything in this section, if upon the completion of a computation under Rules One and Two, the number of members to be assigned to a province is less than the number of senators representing the said province, Rules One and Two shall cease to apply in respect of the said province, and there shall be assigned to the said province a number of members equal to the said number of senators.

4. In the event that Rules One and Two cease to apply in respect of a province then, for the purpose of computing the number of members to be assigned to the provinces in respect of which Rules One and Two continue to apply, the total population of the provinces shall be reduced by the number of the population of the province in respect of which Rules One and Two have ceased to apply and the number Two hundred and fifty-four shall be reduced by the number of members assigned to such province pursuant to Rule Three.

5. Such readjustment shall not take effect until the Termination of the then existing Parliament.

(2) The Yukon Territory as constituted by Chapter forty-one of the Statutes of Canada, 1901, together with any part of Canada not comprised within a province which may from time to time be included therein by the Parliament of Canada for the purposes of representation in Parliament, shall be entitled to one member.

2. This Act may be cited as the British North America Act, 1946, and the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1943, the British North America Act, 1907 and this Act may be cited together as the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1946.

After further debate,
And the question being put on the said motion,
The Senate divided, and the names being called for they were taken down,

The Joint Committee of the Senate and the House of Commons appointed to consider and report upon a suitable design for a distinctive National Flag for Canada, begs leave to present the following as their second and final Report.

Your Committee held fourteen public sessions.

The submission of designs to the Committee was publicly invited and up to and including this date, 2,695 designs were received and considered. In addition, communications in the form of written letters, resolutions and printed form cards and printed form letters to the number of 42,168 were received and wherever the sender's name and address were given, receipt was acknowledged.

Evidence was heard from Colonel A. P. Duguid, D.S.O., Army Historian, Department of National Defence, (Army) and from Lieut. Commander Alan Beddoe, O.B.E., R.C.N.(R).

In the discussion of all phases of the subject assigned to the Committee an admirable spirit of tolerance and cooperation was reflected.

By a process of elimination the members of the Committee finally reduced their selection to one design, which has been evolved in the course of the deliberations of the Committee. The Committee has not prescribed the exact details of the design but has agreed upon the following recommendation:

Your Committee recommends that the National Flag of Canada should be the Canadian red ensign with a maple-leaf in autumn golden colours in a bordered background of white, replacing the coat-of-arms in the fly; the whole design to be so proportioned that the size and position of the maple-leaf in relation to the Union Jack in the Canton will identify it as a symbol distinctive of Canada as a nation.

The said Bill was read the first time, and—

With leave of the Senate, it was—

Ordered, That it be placed on the Orders of the Day for a second reading to-morrow.

The Honourable Senator Euler, from the Special Committee appointed to examine into the provisions and workings of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, presented Part II of the Final Report of the said Committee, which reads as follows:—

FINAL REPORT OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON TAXATION

PART II

WEDNESDAY, 31st July, 1946.

On October 31, 1945, a Special Committee of the Senate was constituted with the purpose, as expressed in the terms of reference "of examining into the provisions and workings of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, and of formulating recommendations for the improvement, clarification and simplification of the methods of assessment and collection of taxes thereunder."

On November 15, 1945, the terms of reference were amended by the addition of the following words after the word "thereunder":

"and the provisions of the said Acts by redrafting them if necessary".

Part I of the Final Report of your Committee was presented to the Senate by the Chairman, the Honourable W. D. Euler, on May 28, 1946. Senator Euler then indicated that Part II will deal with the necessary changes to the Act recommended by the Committee and Part III will relate to the administration of the taxing statutes.

Since the adoption by this Chamber of Part I of the Report, the Minister of Finance has introduced certain resolutions indicating the propositions upon which the Government proposes to found its amending legislation in respect of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940. In the speech introducing the Budget Resolutions the Minister of Finance stated that "instructions are being given to the inter-departmental drafting committee to explore carefully the possibility of reducing the number of discretions now vested in the Minister or at least of providing for their exercise under regulations approved by the Governor in Council." It has also been indicated that such an inter-departmental drafting committee has been requested to consider the possibility of generally clarifying the Income War Tax Act.

Since the Government proposes to take certain measures, as described above, which will, it is hoped, to some extent achieve the objects for which your Committee has been constituted, it is thought desirable to direct the Second Part of the Final Report to assisting the Government in carrying out its intention in this direction. In doing so, however, your Committee wishes to go on record that although it here confines itself to a number of limited suggestions regarding the treatment of certain sections of the Income War Tax Act and The Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, it requests the opportunity of reviewing whatever proposals may be made by the inter-departmental committee in order to determine whether in its opinion the proposals might benefit from further study or from additional recommendations by a committee of this Chamber.

As stated in Part I of the Final Report, your Committee has heard Briefs from twenty-three organizations and individuals. Your Committee has considered the representations made in these Briefs insofar as they relate to certain aspects of the Appeal provisions in the two Statutes and in a more limited manner insofar as they refer to the desirability of specific changes in the legislation and improvements in the administrative techniques employed by the Taxation Division of the Department of National Revenue.

It is proposed, therefore, that Part II of this Report be confined to a statement of those sections which in the opinion of your Committee, after giving study to the briefs and representations made to it, require amendment, clarification or repeal.

Insofar as the details of administration within the Department are concerned, which, it has already been stated, will be dealt with in Part III of this Report, your Committee feels that it requires further opportunity to hear witnesses and to study their representations with a view to making an analysis of the methods of operation and administration of the Department before making recommendations in this connection.

After hearing the statements of a number of witnesses on the question of the remuneration now being paid to various classifications of the Staff of the Taxation Division, however, your Committee is impressed with the fact that current salaries appear in the main to be inadequate in view of the national importance and the high degree of responsibility inherent in the nature of the functions performed by officers of that Division.

In view of the impossibility of completing its task in this connection before the end of the present Session of Parliament, your Committee recommends that, if it is the wish of this Chamber that Part III of this Report be made, your Committee be reconstituted for that purpose.

Insofar as the desirable changes in the legislation are concerned, the representations made may be divided into three broad categories:—

(1) Those recommending that certain sections of the taxing statutes be amended in certain directions.

- (2) Those recommending that certain sections be clarified and more particularly with regard to the exercise of Ministerial discretion thereunder; and
 (3) Those recommending that certain sections be repealed.

Accordingly, your Committee recommends:—

(i) That a complete review of the taxing Statutes be effected to the end that not only may clarity and coherence be achieved but that their provisions may be brought into conformity with modern business practice. In this connection it is recommended that the following sections of the Income War Tax Act be amended to reflect the above principle:

Section	Subject Matter	Reference to Page of Evidence Before Committee
2 (1) (j)	Definition of self contained, domestic establishment.	1946, p.123, Canadian Bar Association.
6 (1) (a)	Expenses not laid out to earn income.	1946, p.119, Canadian Bar Association; p.248, Toronto Board of Trade; 286, Senator Haig.
6 (d)	Reserves, Contingent Accounts or Sinking Funds.	1946, pp.113, 114, Canadian Bar Association.
6 (n)	Allowance for depreciation.	1946, p.81, Dominion Chartered Accountants Association, p.248, Toronto Board of Trade.
16	Capital Stock changes by Company with undistributed income.	1946, p.249, Toronto Board of Trade.
55 (b)	Continuation of Liability for Tax.	1946, p.306, Income Taxpayers' Association.

In connection with section 55(b), it is recommended that the six-year limitation be amended to provide that an assessment may not be re-opened after three years from the day upon which it was mailed to the taxpayer in cases other than those in which the taxpayer has made a misrepresentation of fact or has committed fraud in making his return or supplying information under the Act.

(ii) That the following sections of the Income War Tax Act be clarified in such a manner that their interpretation is not subject to doubt and that they do not come into conflict with other sections of the said Act:

Section	Subject Matter	Reference to Page of Evidence Before Committee
9B	Withholding tax on Non-Residents.	1946, p.122, Canadian Bar Association; p.249, Toronto Board of Trade.
16	Capital Stock changes by Company with undistributed income.	1946; p.249, Toronto Board of Trade.
88(8)	Deductions from Gift Tax.	1946; p.126, Canadian Bar Association.

(iii) That the following sections of the Income War Tax Act be repealed:

Section	Subject Matter	Reference to Page of Evidence Before Committee
10	Distinction between income from chief occupation and secondary activity.	1946; p.118, Canadian Bar Association.
32A	Transactions to avoid taxation.	1946; p.82, Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants; p.249, Toronto Board of Trade; p.285, Canadian Electrical Association.

(iv) That the following sections of the Excess Profits Tax Act, 1940, be repealed:

Section	Subject Matter	Reference to Page of Evidence Before Committee
15	Transactions to Avoid Taxation.	1946; p.82, Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants; p.249, Toronto Board of Trade; p.285, Canadian Electrical Association.

It is pointed out that the foregoing sections should not be regarded as necessarily comprising all the sections, which require amendment, clarification or repeal. The list above set forth is composed of those sections which, in the opinion of your Committee, and of the witnesses who came before it, are most urgently in need of attention by the Governmental draftsmen in order to facilitate a uniform, clear and reasonable administration of the taxing Statutes as they presently exist.

Your Committee wishes to go on record in connection with any revision which may be proposed or effected by the Government in respect of the two taxing Statutes above mentioned as being in complete accord with the statement of the Minister of Finance with respect to his instructions to the interdepartmental drafting committee regarding the reduction in the number of discretions now vested in the Minister of National Revenue and wishes further to endorse his desire to explore the possibility of providing for their exercise under regulations approved by the Governor in Council. Such a limitation of Ministerial discretion becomes all the more necessary, since, much to the regret of your Committee, the Minister of Finance has not seen fit to adopt the recommendations made by your Committee in Part I of this Report relating to the establishment of a Board of Tax Appeals with authority to review administrative discretions.

All which is respectfully submitted.

W. D. EULER,
Chairman.

Ordered, That the said Report be taken into consideration on Tuesday, next.

All which is respectfully submitted.

IVA C. FALLIS,
Chairman.

1. The Joint Librarians of Parliament have the honour to submit their report on the library for the year 1945.

The Supplementary Catalogue of books donated and purchased during 1945 is in course of printing and will be distributed as soon as possible.

The library staff, very much reduced for two or three years past, is now at full strength. The position of Assistant Librarian has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Robert M. Hamilton, B.A., who also holds the degree of Bachelor of Library Science.

Several changes have been made in the library routine which it is hoped will provide Senators and Members with better service, but the Librarians again point out that not until additional adequate shelving space is provided can any attempt be made to institute a really modern system in the Library of Parliament. The Public Works Department has promised us some room in the new Supreme Court Building, but this will be only a minor and temporary relief.

A new system of fluorescent lighting has been installed in two bays of the library. This lighting will be extended throughout the library after the passing of Public Works estimates this session.

The current literature has been procured as far as the resources of the library have permitted. The cost of books and essential services has increased greatly but it is expected that the sum of money withdrawn from the library vote some years ago as a wartime economy will be restored this year.

The statistics of the Library will be presented to the Joint Committee on the Library at its first meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

FELIX DESROCHERS,
F. A. HARDY,

Joint Librarians.

Honourable Members of the Senate,

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you most sincerely for the kind Address of Farewell which you have presented to me on the occasion of my approaching retirement as Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

It is with feelings of regret that I am concluding my official relationship as the Representative of His Majesty The King in this country. It has been an honour and a great privilege to have served as Governor-General during the most eventful and calamitous years in the history of our time. The period of the war was fraught with innumerable difficulties many of which appeared at the time to be insurmountable. But Parliament and the Canadian people, by their unselfish and untiring devotion to the cause of freedom, played a major part in the victorious struggle of the United Nations against the implacable enemies of democracy.

My numerous tours of this vast country have enabled me to see almost every section of Canada.

I have been a witness of the efficiency, perseverance and courage displayed by the men and women of Canada, whether they served in the Armed Forces or were engaged in factories or in one of the numerous societies which performed such miracles of organization and effectiveness. This ready response to the call of duty was an evidence of the loyalty of the Canadian people to His Majesty the King and to the British Commonwealth of Nations, of which Canada is so important a part.

I am very pleased to record that my relations with the Members of both Houses have been of the happiest.

I shall not fail, on my return to England, to convey to Their Majesties the King and Queen the loyal sentiments so admirably expressed in your address. It will be my pleasure also to convey to Queen Mary your kind remembrances. Her Majesty the Queen Mother has the warmest interest in the people of this Country.

I join with you in expressing the hope that Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth and the Princess Margaret may pay a visit to Canada in the near future.

On behalf of Princess Alice I wish to convey to you Her Royal Highness's appreciation for the very kind references you have made to her in your address. These have touched us both very deeply.

We shall never forget what Canada has contributed during the past six difficult and testing years. She earned the admiration and true gratitude of all free peoples for her magnificent and munificent contribution to the victorious prosecution of the war and to the welfare and rehabilitation of the suffering peoples of the world.

In bidding you farewell, Princess Alice and I wish to assure you of our deep and abiding affection and at the same time to express our complete confidence in the continued prosperity of Canada and the maintenance of her proud position as the Senior Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

PROBLEM IS URGENT

Your committee notes that of all the witnesses heard not one opposed the general principle of immigration into Canada. There was unanimous accord that immigrants should be admitted, subject to the qualifications that immigrants should be carefully selected and that admissions should not exceed the number which can be absorbed from time to time without creating conditions of unemployment, reducing the standard of living or otherwise endangering the Canadian economy.

There was a consensus of opinion that immigration is of major importance to Canada, for increases in population are necessary if we are to hold our place abroad and maintain and improve our standard of living at home. Other countries are taking action and world conditions are changing rapidly, so that the problem for Canada is extremely urgent.

All were agreed that Canada, as a humane and christian nation, should do her share towards the relief of refugees and displaced persons.

Your Committee finds that the problem of immigration falls into three general divisions, that is agricultural, industrial and domestic and in this report we will deal with them in that order.

AGRICULTURAL POSSIBILITIES

Canada has a vast area, given in statistics as 3,466,882 square miles, but obviously only a limited portion of this great space is suitable for agriculture as the art is at present understood. There are now in Canada approximately 735,000 occupied farms with an area of approximately 175,000,000 acres. Of these acres, about 89,000,000 are cultivated and 53,000,000 are in prairie or natural pasture, leaving 33,000,000 as occupied but unused. The Canada Year Book for 1945 gives the agricultural lands of Canada, both presently available and potential as 350,000,000 acres, which after deducting the occupied area leaves 175,000,000 acres as unoccupied, but much of what is classified as unoccupied farm land is really not presently available for settlement. There is really little factual data upon which to base an estimate of the amount of unused agricultural land in Canada available for settlement. Dr. Booth of the Economic Branch of the Canadian Department of Agriculture, recently stated that there are about 27,000,000 acres of unused and reasonably accessible land suitable for agricultural settlement, which would provide from 150,000 to 160,000 farms. The Canadian Pacific Railway has still available for settlement 1,307,876 acres, a considerable percentage of which it describes as "good land". The Hudson Bay has an unsold land estate of 822,000 acres, not all of which is useable. Several million acres of land in the Western Provinces can be made available by irrigation. Much of the land classed as occupied is uncultivated and unused. The Census of 1941 showed more than 32,000 abandoned or totally idle farms, aggregating approximately 5,000,000 acres.

Whatever the Statistics may be, informed witnesses who appeared before your Committee were agreed that the area of Canada's unused agricultural resources was very great and that its development would add greatly to Canada's wealth and importance.

Awaiting Cultivation

We were told that Canada's unused agricultural opportunities are great and valuable, and are waiting to be turned into wealth by industry, that is to say by an intelligent application of human effort. This opinion is in accord with our own knowledge of unoccupied areas and of the inadequate use made of some of that which is occupied. We know that there is a definite shortage of farm labour.

Our present extensive, valuable and highly productive agricultural plantation is the result of a gradual development brought about by much enterprise and labour, sustained over a considerable period of time. This development is based originally upon immigration, for Canadians are all, with few exceptions, either immigrants or the descendants of immigrants. Future progress in agricultural expansion and development will be undesirably slow if we depend entirely upon our own natural increase, but what has been accomplished in agriculture in the past by immigration, given comparable opportunity, may be repeated in part at least in the future. If our progress in the years to come is to compare at all favourably with that of the past, it too must be based in part on immigration, intelligently directed and sustained from year to year.

As much of our land available for settlement is controlled by the Provincial Governments, and as the Provinces are interested in possible increases in agricultural population, consultation with the Provinces in this connection is suggested.

INDUSTRIAL IMMIGRATION

Canadian economy has changed greatly since the early immigrants into Canada laid axe to tree or struck long furrows in the middle West. There has been a continuous industrial development taking place, a movement which was greatly accelerated during the recent great war. In 1943, manufacturing produced 54 per cent of Canada's total production. Wartime diversification brought about new degrees of employment and income.

While agriculture is still of major importance in our economy, and will increase in importance with possible improvements in farm practice, a concurrent industrial progress is also important and must be sustained if we are to maintain and improve our present comparatively high standards of living.

Your Committee heard evidence to the effect that immigration could be made to aid greatly in our industrial development and that intelligently selected immigrants in the managerial, technical and artisan classifications would increase employment, rather than taking work from those already here. We were told that our need is for key personnel, for men who can do things with our resources and potentials not now used, or who can improve on methods now in use. There is evidence that we need men willing to undergo heavy labour, as we did when our railroads were being built and our lands were being cleared. Those who devote themselves to the promotion of new enterprise, to highly informed management, and to technical and scientific skills, create employment for others, and this is particularly the case in Canada where so many resources are unused and so many opportunities are lying idle. Our greatest need is for "entrepreneurs", who have the capacity to make productive industries of our latent resources, for artisans skilled in new trades or masters of old ones, and for scientific technicians of all kinds. Such men increase our employment possibilities.

We speak from experience. The woollen, fabric and pottery trades were brought to England by refugees. Most of our own industries have been founded in the first place on imported skills, and even during the recent war years Canada has benefited considerably from the special knowledge and managerial enterprise of refugees. Your Committee has heard evidence as to the results of the creative enterprise of some of these newcomers. They are said to have created one hundred new industries in this country. Examples were given of the establishment of new industries in Canada based upon scientific knowledge and skill brought here by immigrants.

Materials in abundance

Canada has much to offer to such men. We have raw materials in abundance, together with power and transportation. We have local markets and we have access to the trade routes of the world including those of our great neighbour, the United States. Industrial opportunities are here but to be accepted they must be offered in a practical business like way, backed by a generous and consistent immigration policy.

A settled immigration policy and a sustained effort is necessary if any real success is to be achieved in attracting immigrants of the type indicated. Worthwhile men of skill and enterprise do not lightly pull up stakes in the land of their birth in order to emigrate into new and unknown conditions, but experience proves that there are such men abroad and that they are willing to come to this Country. The presently disturbed condition of the world presents an opportunity to Canada in this regard which will be largely lost if too long delayed. Our agents should be in Europe now searching out and interesting those whom we want and preparing for the time when shipping will become available. Time is an element in such migrations for men of the type indicated must know what they are doing.

NEED FOR DOMESTIC HELP

Your committee was advised that many public institutions such as hospitals and homes for aged people and other public institutions are handicapped by a shortage of domestic help. It was stated that in Europe there are numbers of women, experienced in housekeeping, who would be happy indeed were they admitted to Canada to work as domestics in public and private homes.

LABOUR NOT OPPOSED

Organized labour is not opposed to immigration as has been suggested. The Presidents of the Canadian Congress of Labour and the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada both assured your Committee that their great organizations were in favour of immigration provided it did not reduce the Canadian standard of living which they have struggled so long to improve. Labour is definitely opposed to the improper use of immigration to provide a pool of cheap and docile workers, but it will support a selective immigration designed to develop our resources and thus given additional work to our people. Labour is of opinion that Canada should do her share with the other nations of the world to solve the refugee problem, and that we should grant refuge to our full quota of displaced persons, even though it may cost something, so long as it does not adversely effect our living standards.

RAILWAYS

Canada's great railway systems both maintain departments of agriculture and industrial colonization and development. These departments are under the direction of well informed experts in farming and industry whose duty it is to promote enterprise in Canada in every way that is sound and practical. These men have gathered a vast fund of knowledge as to Canada's resources and opportunities for enterprise and they spend their time in energetically bringing together the men and the opening, the demand and the supply. It is to the credit of both the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway that this work has been maintained courageously throughout even the non-immigration and stagnation years which followed the outbreak of the First Great War. Canada is indebted to its Railways for the active encouragement they have given in the past to immigration and settlement, the founding of new industries, tourist traffic and foreign trade, and for the access which they provide to millions upon millions of used and unused acres. Your Committee is indebted to its Railway witnesses for their informed optimism as to Canada's possibilities, which sums up in the phrase—"the resources are there; the problem is to put them to use."

Ocean steamship companies have co-operated with the Canadian Railways in the past in bringing immigrants to Canada, but shipping losses during the war have been heavy. A representative of the Cunard White Star and Donaldson Atlantic lines expressed to your Committee his company's faith in Canada's resources and her powers of expansion, but stated that ships are costly and that an announcement by the Government of Canada for a long-term immigration policy is necessary to the institution by his company of a shipbuilding program.

The Swedish-American line is now carrying immigrants from Scandinavian countries to the United States by the War famous "Gripsholm" and a sister ship, and a representative of that company assured your Committee that arrangements could be made to have these ships and additional tonnage which is being secured call at Halifax to land immigrants so soon as Canada is prepared to admit them.

THE ACT

Canada's Immigration Act, as it has been for many years past is a non-Immigration Act. Its main purpose seems to be exclusion. The object in view in most of its sections is to keep people out; not let them in, and the authority to amend the law which is given to the Executive has been used by Order in Council to prohibit all immigration, with very restricted exceptions. Little is to be gained by a discussion of the Act in its detail. What is needed is a new policy of selective attraction to replace that of repulsion and a vigorous administration, that will search out, a reasonable number of immigrants who are desirable and then find means of bringing them here and of assisting them in being successful after their arrival. They should be welcomed and taught the advantages of life in this country, and be made into Canadian citizens in spirit as well as in fact as rapidly as possible.

The unenviable task of our Immigration Department during the past years has been almost entirely negative. A great battery of letter writers has been engaged in explaining why nothing can be done and in making the best case possible out of every excuse. Our immigration officials would indeed be happy to see the last of such a policy.

Any suggestion of discrimination based upon either sex or person should be scrupulously avoided both in the Act and in its other government limitation of Asiatic immigration being based, of course, this the Director's absorption. Unnecessary and technical restrictions such as the requirement of direct travel from the country of origin, the possession of funds when support is made available by others and mere degrees of consanguinity or relationship, should be cleared away, leaving to those in charge the freest exercise of discretion in the choice of those desirable, when not admissible as of right, having due regard for priority to those brought here on the responsibility of friends or relatives.

IMMIGRATION IS DESIRABLE

After a careful consideration of the evidence submitted, your Committee is of opinion that it is desirable that immigrants be admitted to Canada in substantial numbers, and commencing as soon as possible. Canada's ability to support a substantial increase in population is beyond question. The wisdom of Canada withholding from the crowded lands of Europe access to her vast areas and unused resources is at least open to doubt.

The immigrants admitted should be carefully selected. Canada should not stand inactively by, accepting passively those who apply. Government agencies should vigorously search out those who by character and skill in industry or agriculture may be expected to enhance our human resources as a nation and to add to our productive power.

People from the British Isles have the advantage of common language and a grounded understanding of Canadian political institutions and modes of living, but no definite rules can be laid down in this regard. Great Britain's manpower should not be depleted by large scale migration nor is anything of the kind likely to be encouraged by the British Government. An invitation should be extended and facilities afforded for those of character and ability who care to come.

Good prospective immigrants are not confined to any one locality. Your Committee has been greatly impressed with the accomplishments in Canada of the men and women from all parts of Europe who came here in considerable numbers in the years preceding the First Great War.

AVAILABILITY

That desirable immigrants in considerable numbers are available now is well established. Europe is still in a sadly disturbed condition and many good citizens who at one time were engaged successfully in industry or agriculture are now in sad plight, and are looking for opportunities to start life anew. Such people cannot be found by office men in Ottawa, much less scrutinized and assorted. They must be searched out by agents of our Government operating in the localities where they are to be found. If Canada is to secure those who are likely to prove the greatest assets, we must take the initiative; we must go to them, and if their migration is to be a success for both themselves and Canada they should be guided and assisted, and in some degree supervised, until they have become established. In this way we may prevent our immigration being offset and its population benefits destroyed by emigration, as has been the case so markedly in the past.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS

Immigrants who come to Canada on the responsibility of relatives or friends already here enjoy a real advantage over those who arrive as complete strangers. The right to bring relatives and friends here is a privilege which our Government may well extend to Canadian citizens. This principle has already been recognized by the Government in an Order in Council dated the 28th Mers, but L.P.C. 2071.

Successes and thus the Council passed in 1931, 1937 and 1944, have so altered the administration of her Immigration Act as to prohibit the landing in Canada of immigrant problem and third occupations, with certain very limited exceptions, and to these exceptions the Order cited has added the following paragraph:

- (a) The father or mother, the unmarried son or daughter eighteen years or over, the unmarried brother or sister, the orphan nephew or niece under sixteen years of age, of any person legally admitted to and resident in Canada, who is in a position to receive and care for such relatives. The term "orphan" used in this clause means a child bereaved of both parents.

The Committee sees no good reason for the exclusion of married sons and daughters, brothers and sisters and of nephews and nieces whether orphaned or otherwise and whether under or over sixteen years of age. These are but technicalities, giving the impression of a grudging opening of the door. What really counts is whether the prospective immigrants are healthy, willing to work and capable of taking their part in Canadian life, in which case the fact of relatives already here, assuming responsibility and guaranteeing assistance is an advantage to the immigrant so great as to justify a priority, and to this consideration is to be added the freedom which we should give to our own citizens to extend the hand of fellowship to their unfortunate relatives and friends abroad. Such privileges might well be extended to friends as well as relatives. The admission of such people so soon as shipping is available will no doubt constitute our first post-war migration to this country. With the assistance of their Canadian connections, they can be easily assimilated into the Canadian economy and present no problems of absorption.

ORGANIZATION DISBANDED

The Order in Council has meant nothing to date, however, for practically no immigrants are being admitted whether relatives or otherwise, nor are any steps being taken with a view to future admission.

When the war broke out in 1939, Canada had Immigration Officers in Europe capable of making medical and other inspections at Paris, Antwerp, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Danzig, Gdynia and Riga; there were also officers at Hong Kong, as well as inspectioal offices at London, Liverpool, Glasgow and Belfast in the United Kingdom, assisted by a Canadian roster of British medical doctors at points throughout the United Kingdom.

This organization was disbanded on the outbreak of war and there have been practically no new-comers from Europe or Asia since the commencement of hostilities, nor since its close, other than the recent arrivals of wives and children of service men. What passenger shipping remains from the wartime sinkings, has been engaged exclusively in the task of repatriation of Canada's overseas Army and service-men's dependents, a condition which will likely continue until about the end of the year. With the greater availability of passenger shipping on the conclusion of repatriation operations, we should be in a position to bring immigrants to Canada.

But the war has been over for many months and the immigration and inspection staffs should now be returned to their former European stations. People desiring to immigrate should not be kept in doubt until the last problem of shipping has been solved. If visas are issued, many may find means of solving their own transportation problems. The first step is to open our European offices, an action which should no longer be delayed.

MANY APPLICATIONS

At the present time there is no dearth of applications both from Canadian citizens seeking admission of relatives and friends and of persons desiring to come. Some difficulty may be occasioned by other governments refusing to allow their nationals to depart, but subject to this the Director of Canadian Immigration anticipates no difficulty in finding such immigrants as are desired, or in setting up departmental machinery for their inspection, selection and admission.

POLISH PROSPECTS

Your Committee has been informed that there are a large number of prospective Polish immigrants desirous of admission to Canada. A considerable number of these are soldiers who fought under General Crerar. At the end of 1945, there were over 200,000, in the Polish Armed Forces fighting on the Allied side. Some of these men are now in the United Kingdom. As they were of military age, they are men in the prime of life, about 60 per cent being farmers by profession, and all having some training in the mechanical arts. All the arts and professions are represented. Since this Committee was appointed, the Government has announced that in accordance with an agreement with the United Kingdom, 4,000 of these Polish soldiers are to be admitted to Canada under a provision that they shall remain on farms for at least two years.

In addition there are said to be thousands of Polish "displaced persons" and former prisoners-of-war who were found in German camps or wandering about at the close of hostilities. The numbers are indefinite, but the evidence is that a very considerable number of men and women of this nationality, in the prime of life, most of them having valuable skill and clearly all having some material resources, form a human reservoir upon which Canada may draw.

UKRAINIANS AVAILABLE

There would appear to be at least an equal number of refugees and displaced persons of Ukrainian origin in the Camps of Germany or drifting about Europe. Some millions of men and women were driven by the Germans from the territories they occupied to be used as slave labour. The home country of these people has been devastated, and it is thought that many would welcome an opportunity to recommence life in Canada. How suitable they are for settlement could be learned by careful investigations where they are, and by no other means. Our agents should be in Europe now engaged in this work, for if they are such people as the Ukrainian settlers who came to Canada in the years preceding the last war, they will possess characteristics of intelligence and industry which may well contribute to Canada's development.

OTHER NATIONAL ORIGINS

Representatives of Canadians of Czechoslovak, Finnish, Polish, Ukrainian and other national origins testified to your Committee as to the contribution made by their people to Canada's agricultural and industrial development and as to the desire of those who may be described as "new Canadians" for a reasonable policy of immigration. They agreed that it should be carefully selective with preference and priority to those with relatives or friends already established in Canada.

Well informed witnesses told your committee that immigrants from the Baltic countries, Holland and Denmark are available, and that they are highly desirable people from the Canadian point of view.

Representatives of the Canadian Jewish Congress laid emphasis on the terrible losses and suffering of the Jewish populations of Europe and asked that in Canadian Immigration Law and administration there be no discrimination on account of religion or race. A plea was made for the admission to Canada of "displaced" persons in Europe, and particularly of unfortunate children.

REFUGEES

Canadians are a Christian people, very human and very ready to discharge their moral obligations. Canada with her vast space and great resources has surely some responsibility for the unfortunate among the war-torn peoples of Europe. It is not right that we should entirely close our doors against the victims of world upheaval, and particularly the children.

In immigration statistical classifications the term "Refugee" is not used, and there is no way in which exact figures may be supplied. The term "Refugee" has acquired a much wider application during the past eight or nine years. After the first world war it applied mostly to those who had lost both homes and citizenship; later it applied to all who because of political, religious, racial, or economic troubles actual or threatened, were forced or induced to move. While immigrants are not shown in the statistical records as "refugees", it is well known that the majority of immigrants from Continental Europe in recent years belong to that category.

In the years 1938 and 1939, many Continental refugees with varying amounts of capital were admitted.

In 1939 over 300 Czech families and about 100 single men, who had to leave the Sudetan area on its occupation by Germany were brought to Canada and settled on the land. This movement would have been considerably larger but for the outbreak of war.

In 1940-41 individual groups of Belgian, Czech and Netherland nationals totalling several hundred persons, entered Canada as refugees.

In 1940 a considerable number of civilian refugees, most of whom were given asylum in the United Kingdom some months prior to the outbreak of war, were transferred from temporary internment camps in England to civilian internment camps in Canada; about 1,000 of these were subsequently released in Canada.

Following the fall of France arrangements were made for the entry of Polish engineers and technicians from that country. About 800 came to Canada, some with their families. They were employed at war work.

In 1941 approximately 300 European refugees were admitted from the Far East. About fifty have come forward following the close of the war, they having been prevented from sailing in 1941 due to Japan's attack on Pearl Harbour.

In 1944 one hundred and sixty-two families comprising 450 persons, were admitted to Canada from the Iberian Peninsula.

The entry to Canada from unoccupied France of 1,000 Jewish orphaned children was approved in 1942, but the subsequent control of that country by Germany prevented the transfer of these children being effected. During the war period many individuals and families of the refugee class who succeeded in getting beyond enemy control were allowed entry to Canada; these would total several hundred.

By Order in Council P.C. 6687 of the 26th October, 1945, authority was given to grant permanent status to refugees who entered Canada as such subsequent to September 1, 1939.

Minor Concessions Made

By Orders in Council P.C. 2070 and P.C. 2071 of May 28, 1946 provision has been made for the waiving of the passport requirements for displaced persons, and an extending of the classes of immigrants admissible to Canada on the basis of relationship to residents of this country. In the Minister's statement made in the House of Commons on May 29 last, Mr. J. A. Glen said, in part,—

The action taken is intended as a short-term measure to provide for the admission to Canada of approved persons who can be both maintained until established and provided with housing by relatives, and to meet in some measure the pressing demands being made on behalf of refugees or displaced persons having relatives in Canada, anxious to provide them with homes.

On July 8, in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister made reference to the above mentioned regulations, and added in part as follows:—

The action taken is intended as a short term measure to provide some early and partial relief in a number of individual cases. The general problem of refugees, because of its magnitude, can only be resolved by the United Nations as a whole. Canada participated fully in the study given to it by the social and economic council at its recent meeting in New York and will join with other members of the Council at the meeting which is scheduled for August 30, when a recommendation is expected to be submitted for approval by the general assembly for the establishment of a United Nations Refugee Organization.

Your Committee is of opinion that preference should be given to those refugees who are bona fide immigrants, and thus intend to make Canada their permanent home.

UNITED STATES

Other countries are giving the lead in the matter of immigration. Since 1820, the United States has admitted immigrants to the number of 38,461,395, a fact which explains in no small measure the wealth, power and world influence now enjoyed by that country. In the years 1905-6-7-10-13 and 14, admissions were over one million annually. The rate decreased sharply with the opening of the First Great War, and a quota system was adopted in 1924. The quota now stands at 153,774 annually, though the actual admissions between 1925 and 1944 have averaged 64,036 per annum. During the war years from 1939 to 1944 inclusive, the number of immigrants have averaged 46,386, including the non-quota countries such as Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, and the independent countries of Central and South America.

Since the conclusion of hostilities, immigration has been a subject of extensive discussion in the United States and on 22nd December, 1945, President Truman by proclamation recommended the full utilization of current quotas for displaced persons in Europe. The President issued a directive to the appropriate high State officials to facilitate the entry of such persons. He mentioned the importance of caring for the orphaned children of Europe. Visas, he said, should be distributed fairly among persons of all faiths, creeds and nationalities. The United States War Shipping Administration was directed to provide the necessary arrangements for water transportation from the port of embarkation in Europe to the United States, subject to the provision that the movement of immigrants will in no way interfere with the scheduled return of service personnel and their spouses and children from the European theatre.

In pursuance of this Presidential policy, nearly 1,000 refugees from Nazi concentration camps arrived by Army transport at New York on May 20 last. They were understood to be the first arrivals only.

GREAT BRITAIN

Britain is a crowded country with a population of 500 to the square mile as compared with 44 per square mile in the United States and $3\frac{1}{2}$ in the square mile in Canada, and yet the United Kingdom has never closed her doors against the Refugee from Nazi oppression. From the beginning of the war until now as many as 200,000 refugees entered Britain. In June, 1944, it was officially stated that refugees were being admitted at the rate of 800 a month.

AUSTRALIA

The Australian Government has already announced a large-scale immigration policy for Australia, to commence so soon as demobilization, and re-employment of the fighting forces is sufficiently advanced, additional houses have been provided to meet the demands of an increased population, and shipping to transport the immigrants has been secured. Australia is not satisfied to merely wait for these things. She is reported to be reconverting Liberty cargo ships into passenger boats. She has fixed a quota of 70,000 per year and has undertaken a publicity campaign to explain to prospective immigrants the causes of delay. Arrangements have recently been made between the Governments of Australia and the United Kingdom for free passage to Australia of British ex-service men and their dependents. Assistance will also be given to British civilian immigrants and their dependents. The Government of Australia has also approved in principle the bringing to Australia during the first three years following the war of 50,000 orphans from war devastated areas.

CONCLUSIONS

In conclusion, your Committee expresses its opinion that what is required for Canada is a well considered and sustained policy of immigration, selective in character and pursued by Canadian authorities with initiative and enterprise. We should seek out the individual migrants whom we want who will contribute to our industrial and agricultural economy and who will assist in maintaining our high standards of living by increasing proportionately our productive power, and in addition whose mentality and education will fit them for taking part in Canada's political, economic and social life. What we require is a steady flow in reasonable number of good settlers both urban and rural, rather than any excited or spasmodic rush, with regard, of course, to the varying economic conditions and needs of the country from time to time. Successful immigration can be secured only by careful and intelligent planning, and sustained over a number of years. Continuity of policy is essential to great and lasting success.

Nor is success to be gauged by the number of immigrants we land at our ports, if they are in fact but birds of passage whose ultimate destination is some other country. Success is to be counted in the number of people permanently and successfully settled in Canada. This is one reason why those immigrants with relatives or friends already here and established in Canada are so greatly to be preferred. Continued touch with the settler after his arrival, for the purpose of guidance, assistance and encouragement, is important. Some means should be found of giving useful information and sound advice to the newcomers as to Canadian opportunities and conditions.

There are problems to be solved both at home and abroad. For example, the social security measures, veterans benefits, church, trade union and other relations which the migrant will leave in his home land, and how compensating benefits may be extended to him here, should be thoroughly studied and considered. Inter-governmental agreements may be possible, so that the migrant will leave with the approval and assistance of his national authorities. It might be arranged that he need not entirely abandon all his former state benefits. Why should he not carry forward to the new land the Unemployment Insurance credits which he has built up in the old?

All such problems are largely administrative, and they suggest what may be accomplished by an energetic immigration department, properly financed and intelligently directed.

Australia is already engaged in surveys and other activities of this kind. Canada also should be moving. The immigration problem is urgent. Action should be immediate, as otherwise opportunities will have passed or been seized by others.

Canada can be well served at this juncture by men of action, good judgment and vision.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Your Committee therefor recommends that:

1. Announcement immediately by the Government of Canada of a policy of selective immigration into Canada of both agricultural and industrial workers.

2. That such immigration be limited in numbers to what from time to time appears to be the absorptive capacity of the country, and by practical considerations of transport and establishment, and be subject to the shipping priority of service men and their dependents and other Canadian citizens.

3. That in anticipation of shipping becoming available for immigration purposes:

(a) Canada's immigration policy be published in appropriate foreign countries with explanations as to the unavoidable delay.

(b) That forthwith Canadian immigration and inspection officers be dispatched to Europe, and offices be opened with a view to meeting prospective immigrants and to the selection of those most desirable.

(c) That surveys be undertaken immediately in Europe to determine the localities where immigrants may be found and the conditions and anticipated problems to be met.

(d) That survey be undertaken in Canada in order to determine the agricultural and industrial resources available for use by prospective immigrants and the conditions and anticipated problems to be met.

(e) That the Immigration Ministry at once make studies and lay plans for an immigration movement and promptly take steps to implement such a policy.

4. That everything possible be done to make shipping available, subject to the above mentioned repatriation, and thereupon priority be given to the relatives in all degrees and to the friends of Canadian citizens who assume responsibility for the care and establishment of the newcomer, and who are well able and willing to give guarantees.

5. That the Immigration Act and Regulations be revised to provide for the finding and selection of immigrants, the admission of those most desirable, and for the supervision and assistance of the newcomers until established in Canada.

The Honourable Senator Buchanan from the Standing Committee on Tourist Traffic, presented their second report, which reads as follows:—

THURSDAY, 15th August, 1946.

The Standing Committee on Tourist Traffic beg leave to make their second Report, as follows:

1. Your Committee have in obedience to the Order of Reference of the 10th May, 1946, inquired into the activities of the various agencies concerned with tourist travel.

2. In the course of its inquiry the Committee heard the following witnesses:

Mr. R. A. Gibson, Director, Lands, Parks and Forests Branch, Department of Mines and Resources;

Dr. H. F. Lewis, Superintendent, Wild Life Protection, National Parks Bureau;

Mr. J. A. Christiansen, Chairman, Committee on Alaska Highway, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce;

The Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works, Province of Alberta;

Mr. Harry Ainlay, Mayor of the City of Edmonton, Alberta.

It may be recalled that in 1934 a special Committee of the Senate was appointed to consider the possibilities for tourist traffic and to enquire as to the means adopted by the Government looking to its encouragement and expansion. This special Committee made an exhaustive study of the subject and in its final report brought forward a number of recommendations which were adopted by the Government.

These recommendations might well be mentioned at this time:

1. That the tourist trade of Canada is a matter of National as well as provincial, municipal and private concern.

2. That the tourist trade of Canada is capable of great expansion.

3. That an aggressive campaign of tourist trade promotion should be launched at once as a national effort and in co-operation with tourist travel and publicity agencies, public and private throughout the Dominion.

4. That a "Canadian Travel Bureau" be established as a branch of the appropriate Department of the Dominion Government; such Bureau to have a Director at its head, and he be assisted by an Advisory Council consisting of the Directors of Information of the various Provincial Governments, representatives of the Federal Departments and Services interested in tourist travel promotion, and the members of the Executive Committee of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus.

5. That a sum of not less than $150,000 be voted at the present session of Parliament to finance this campaign during the current fiscal year.

6. That a permanent progressive program of Canadian tourist travel promotion be launched, with the closest co-operation between all agencies engaged in this work, the Dominion's share in effort and expenditure to co-ordinate and supplement the work already undertaken and proposed by all other agencies, and in no manner to supplant this work or the organizations engaged therein.

7. That a Standing Committee of this House (representatives of all the Provinces) be set up, to bring Parliament into direct and permanent contact with this important national matter, to conduct an annual study of the tourist trade, and to consider means through which it may best be fostered and encouraged.

8. That the Canadian system of National Parks be extended, as a truly national policy, to embrace all the provinces; and that greater efforts be put forth to attract visitors to these scenic and recreational centres.

For the first time since your Senate Committee on tourist traffic was created following the adoption of the 1934 report, hearings have been held during which it was possible from the evidence heard to ascertain to what extent the recommendations of the special Committee of 1934 have been carried out. Your Committee found that they had been generally fulfilled.

The Canadian Travel Bureau was established and is now a Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce. It has a Director at its head and an advisory council constituted as was proposed by the special Committee.

The first appropriation to the Bureau made in 1934 amounted to $100,000.00. For the present fiscal year the Federal appropriation to assist in promoting tourist business is $650,000.00. During the war years the activities of the Bureau were curtailed. The staff was cut to a minimum and the appropriation dropped to as low as $27,000.00.

The Bureau has worked in the closest possible co-operation with not only the Tourist Agencies in Canada but with an ever-increasing number of tourist organizations in the United States and in some other parts of the world. Canadian Trade Commissioners' offices and Embassies in foreign lands have been used to spread tourist information.

The recommendation of the 1934 special Committee that the Canadian system of National Parks be extended to embrace all the provinces has been largely fulfilled. The National Parks system has been extended, particularly in the Maritime Provinces.

Your Committee learned from the evidence that was given to it by the Director that this year the National Travel Bureau was devoting most of its publicity to a campaign in the Canadian newspapers towards developing friendly and courteous treatment of tourists. The limited publicity in the United States had as its major purpose the stressing of the importance of making reservations well in advance before starting out on a holiday trip to Canada.

Canada's attractions as a holiday playground summer and winter are well and widely advertised. This opinion was reached after having had revealed to the Committee the extent of the campaigns of the transportation interests, the Provincial Governments, Municipalities, the Parks Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources and the Canadian Travel Bureau. The Committee found that the publicity sponsored by the Canadian Travel Bureau is aimed to give an overall picture of Canada's attractions, while those of the other interests are concentrated on particular areas such as the mountains, sea-side and other resorts served by the railways and steamship companies, while the Provinces and Municipalities confine their publicity and expenditures to their own particular appeal to tourists.

The Canadian Travel Bureau does not confine its publicity to the magazines and newspapers and the issue of pamphlets. It uses films and other means, such as displays at exhibitions to make all of Canada better known to the travelling public.

Your Committee is satisfied that the Bureau is encouraging and bringing about co-operation between the Provincial Governments and all agencies interested in the advancement of the Tourist Industry. There was no evidence of needless overlapping.

Your Committee was much impressed with the submissions from the officials of the Parks Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources. There is no question that Canada's National Parks are magnets drawing more and more visitors into the country every year. Not only is this so with the older Parks but also those of more recent creation. During the period of the war the Parks appropriation was barely sufficient to meet the requirements for maintenance. Naturally there will be need for increased expenditure to bring these resorts up to standard conditions as well as to provide necessary improvements. It was made clear to the Committee that more accommodation for motor tourists was necessary in most of the Parks, and a continued addition of cabins to meet the requirements of the tourists travelling by automobile seems to your Committee to be necessary.

It was suggested also that Parks might be established in parts of the Dominion where they do not now exist. A delegation appeared before the Committee to urge the acquirement of more land to be added to what has come to be known as the Gatineau Park close to the Capital of Canada. The Committee was impressed with the case presented, particularly the view that if additional land was to be acquired it should be done now before allowing it to pass into the possession of private parties. It was argued that this park in its close proximity to the Capital, would do much to increase the tourist flow from the United States.

Evidence was tendered to your Committee in support of the view that the Alaska Highway had considerable potential possibilities for tourist traffic. The fame that it had gained in the war years, the hitherto largely unknown country it had opened up, its link with Alaska and the Yukon led the advocates of the continued maintenance of this highway and the construction of a shorter road from Edmonton to Dawson Creek to urge that the Federal Government should keep the road open for tourist traffic and assist in the construction of the proposed cut-off from Edmonton via White Court to the British Columbia boundary at Dawson Creek. This would reduce the mileage between Edmonton and Dawson Creek by 135 miles.

The view was expressed to the Committee that the so-called Haines cut-off running from the head of the Lynn Canal to the Alaska Highway near the Yukon boundary should be brought up to the standard of the main Alaska highway. The Committee was informed that the Alaska Highway as it exists today was built entirely at the expense of the United States and has been turned over free of cost to Canada.

Evidence of officers of the Federal Government established that the highway was to be kept in operation and that services for the convenience of travellers were already being provided at different points along its route.

Almost every witness appearing before your Committee stressed the need of better roads if tourist traffic was to expand. The prevailing opinion was that Canada had unlimited tourist attractions. To make them accessible, all-weather highways were necessary and Federal assistance would be required to assist in the provision of the main arteries of approach, particularly from the United States.

Your Committee is convinced that a broadly planned tourist traffic policy has almost unlimited possibilities. One witness pointed out that United States citizens spend six billion dollars annually in tourist travel and estimated that at least one tenth of this amount was available to Canada. This sum of six hundred million dollars was in accord with other opinion offered to the Committee during its hearings.

If this estimate is correct, or nearly so, then no other conclusion can be reached than that wisely appropriated expenditures on the promotion of tourist travel will bring a return greater than any branch of our export trade.

Your Committee recommends.

1. Since the greater part of our tourist traffic from the United States comes to Canada by motor car, good hard surfaced roads, from United States border points, strategically located, are a prime necessity to its expansion. Your Committee recommends to the Dominion Government that financial assistance, under proper agreements, should be offered to the Provinces, who have the personnel in their Highway Departments to supervise the construction and maintenance of such roads, and that these roads should be built to a permanent high standard.

2. That facilities in National Parks should be improved, and roads within the Parks hard surfaced to a permanent high standard.

3. That by whatever suitable agencies are available, Canadians operating Service Stations, eating and stopping places, and including hotels, shops and stores, should be impressed with the importance of showing courtesy and giving good service to visiting tourists at all times.

4. Suitable descriptive literature and good road maps for the different provinces should be placed in the hands of all Immigration and Customs officers at all border crossing points, to be made available to tourists seeking such information.

5. That the development and permanent maintenance of our Tourist business should be planned on a long range view.

6. That there should be as close coordination as possible of the efforts of the Federal and Provincial Agencies and the Transportation Companies by land, water and air, to prevent overlapping and get the maximum results possible for the money expended.

7. That enquiry should be made by the Federal Government into the possibilities of the Alaska Highway as a tourist attraction to ascertain whether expenditure on a more direct link with it from Edmonton to Dawson Creek would be justified.

8. That authority be granted for the printing of 600 copies in English and 200 copies in French of this report and the evidence submitted to the Committee on August 8, 1946 with respect to the tourist possibilities of the Alaska Highway, and that Rule 100 be suspended insofar as it relates to the said printing.

Due to a lack of shorthand reporters it was not possible for the reporting branch to furnish a complete report of the proceedings of the Committee.

All which is respectfully submitted.

W. A. Buchanan,
Chairman.

Ordered, That the said Report be taken into consideration at the next sitting of the Senate.

Chairman.

With leave of the Senate,
The said Report was adopted.

The Honourable Senator Johnston from the Special Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Commons appointed to consider the Indian Act and other matters referred to the said Committee, presented their third Report.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

TUESDAY, 13th August, 1946.

The Special Joint Committee of the Senate and the House of Commons appointed to examine and consider the Indian Act (Chapter 98, R.S.C., 1927), and all such other matters as have been referred to the said Committee, begs leave to present the following as a Third Report.

Pursuant to Order of Reference dated 16th May, 1946, your Committee immediately commenced its sittings. From the outset it was apparent that our task could not possibly be completed during the present Session; that it would be impossible to devote any time to the consideration of individual claims, grievances or submissions advancing individual views or opinions.

The Committee, therefore, adopted a plan of agenda and procedure covering three Sessions of Parliament:

1946 Session, hearing of departmental officials;

1947 Session, hearing of Indian, church and other organizations;

1948 Session, revision of the Indian Act.

The Committee has held 25 meetings and has heard 16 witnesses including, as exceptions to the settled procedure, the President and the Treasurer, North American Indian Brotherhood; the Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia; and brigadier O. M. Martin, a Canadian of Indian ancestry, who is a Magistrate of the County of York (Ontario) Court.

The hearing of departmental officials has disclosed the necessity for certain immediate administrative improvements which can be effected without the revision of any existing legislation, and which, when put into effect, will remove some of the causes out of which have arisen grievances and complaints of many Indians.

In order not to break the continuity of the work envisaged by the Order of Reference, your Committee hereunder makes certain recommendations to cover the period of the coming recess of Parliament.

Your Committee, therefore, recommends:

1. That the members of the Committee should voluntarily visit, during the coming Recess, such Indian Reserves as are in or near their Division or constituency;

2a. That at least ten members of your Special Joint Committee be empowered by Order in Council as a Commission to sit at such times as the said Commission shall decide at various places in the Maritime Provinces and eastern Quebec for the purpose of continuing the inquiry into and reporting upon all those matters mentioned in your Order of Reference dated 16th May, 1946, which pertain to the Indian population within the said areas; to visit such Indian Reserves within the said areas as the said Commission may decide to be expedient; to hear evidence of any person or organization who may be affected by the said Order of Reference and who may desire to be heard by the said Commissioners that the said Commissioners be authorized to engage the services of counsel, secretary and shorthand writers to aid and assist the Commissioners in their inquiry;

2b. That the members of your Committee be empowered by Order in Council to sit in Ottawa as a Commission during the two weeks immediately prior to the opening of the next Session of Parliament, for the purpose of continuing the inquiry into and reporting upon all those matters mentioned in the Order of Reference dated 16th May, 1946, and to hear evidence of any person or organization who may be affected by the matters heretofore considered by your Special Joint Committee and who may desire to be heard by the said Commissioners; and that the said Commissioners be authorized to engage the services of counsel, secretary and shorthand writers to aid and assist the said Commissioners in their inquiry;

3. That immediately Parliament next reassembles, a Special Joint Committee on Indian Affairs be constituted with powers similar to those granted your Committee on 16th May, 1946;

4. That, as the amount of work still necessary to be done by a Parliamentary Committee is of great magnitude, particularly with regard to Treaty Rights and Obligations, a small inter-departmental committee be set up to survey and report to your next Committee with regard to that particular subject-matter of our Order of Reference.

5. That the Director of Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, in conjunction with the Civil Service Commission and the Treasury Board, take immediate steps to fill such vacant key posts as Indian Agents and such other vacancies in Indian Affairs Branch which, in the public interest must be filled forthwith.

6. That the establishment for Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, be increased to provide for the appointment of at least two Indian Agents at Large;

7. That consideration be given by the Civil Service Commission to the desirability of placing additional classifications of the Indian Affairs Field Staff under the provisions of the Civil Service Act;

8. That more direct methods be employed for the return of rentals collected on behalf of Indian lessors;

9. That the Indian Affairs Branch immediately undertake the drafting of plans: (1) for the construction of such additional accommodation as is necessary to relieve the present over-crowding in certain Indian day schools; (2) to provide for the construction of such other Indian day schools as, in the opinion of the said Branch, are needed;

10. That as benefits have accrued to many Indians as a result of Fur Conservation and Development work undertaken by the Indian Affairs Branch, steps be taken to extend the fur conservation and development program into those provinces into which it has not yet been introduced.

A copy of the minutes of proceedings and evidence taken before the Committee is appended.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. FRED JOHNSTON,
Chairman.

2. Copy of any agreements, leases and undertakings in connection with the location, style of architecture, class of construction and the terms and conditions of the contract for the construction of said hotel.

3. Copy of any agreement with the Company operating the Lord Elgin Hotel, Ottawa.

To these Bills the Royal Assent was pronounced by the Clerk of the Senate in the following words:—

"In His Majesty's name, the Honourable the Deputy Governor General doth assent to these Bills."

The Honourable the Speaker of the House of Commons then addressed the Honourable the Deputy Governor General as follows:—

“MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR:

“The Commons of Canada have voted Supplies required to enable the Government to defray certain expenses of the Public Service.

“In the name of the Commons I present to Your Honour the following Bill:—

“An Act for granting to His Majesty certain sums of money for the Public Service of the financial year ending the 31st March 1947.”

“To which Bill I humbly request Your Honour’s Assent.”

After the Clerk had read the title of this Bill.

To this Bill the Royal Assent was pronounced by the Clerk of the Senate in the following words:—

“In His Majesty’s name, the Honourable the Deputy Governor General thanks his loyal subjects, accepts their benevolence, and assents to this Bill.”

After which the Honourable the Deputy Governor General was pleased to close the Second Session of the Twentieth Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, with the following Speech:—

*Honourable Members of the Senate,
Members of the House of Commons:*

A year has passed since hostilities ceased with the surrender of Japan. The world is but slowly emerging from the turmoil and ravages of war. The domestic problems of individual nations have become inseparably linked with the problems of all nations.

Of international problems, the world shortage of food has caused the greatest immediate concern. It is a source of gratification to the people of Canada to know that our country has provided over one-fifth of the supply of food to relieve the greatest famine in human history. The government has continued to give practical expression to the wholehearted desire of the Canadian people to relieve human suffering and to contribute to international tranquillity.

My Ministers are continuing their efforts to restore and expand peacetime markets for the surplus production of our country. In the period of transition, exports to our wartime allies have been financed in part by credits voted by Parliament. In accordance with this policy you have approved a financial agreement with the United Kingdom and made a further amendment to the Export Credit Insurance Act.

A bountiful crop, which will help in meeting the demand for food, now seems assured. An agreement has been made with the United Kingdom for the marketing of our wheat. The wheat agreement, with agreements for the marketing of other foodstuffs already in operation, will greatly assist the government in its policy of maintaining stable prices for agricultural products.

The demand, both at home and abroad, for Canadian manufactures has never been greater. Production at a high level is required both to meet this demand and to check inflationary pressure on prices.

The wartime battle against inflation has been continued with substantial success through the period of transition. Despite gradual measures of decontrol, and a shift to a selective price ceiling, the rise of prices has been held well in check. To this end, a most important step was the restoration of exchange parity with the United States dollar.

The conversion of our war industries to peacetime production has been achieved more smoothly and speedily and with less dislocation than might have been expected. Opportunities for employment have been maintained at a high level and the transfer to civilian occupations of displaced war workers and demobilized veterans is being accomplished swiftly and effectively.

In recent weeks essential production has been slowed down, and the dangers of inflation increased, by stoppages of work in certain key industries. My Ministers endorse the view of the Standing Committee on Industrial Relations that continued price control is only possible with a reasonable measure of wage control. The government is firmly convinced that the exercise of moderation and restraint by all parties is essential to the satisfactory adjustment of labour disputes and the maintenance of the high level of production without which there cannot be ample opportunities for employment.

The repatriation of the armed forces is now virtually completed. It is anticipated that the wives and children of veterans will almost all have been brought to Canada by the close of the present year. The demobilisation of the wartime army, navy and air force is likewise practically accomplished. Foundations have been laid for the permanent peacetime defence forces.

A series of measures relating to war veterans has been enacted, with the object of making provision for the veterans, and for the dependents of the fallen, worthy of the service and sacrifice of Canada's armed forces.

In Canada, as in other countries, the housing shortage has grown more acute since the end of the war, despite the provision of a large supply of new housing. In order to increase the efficiency of governmental action, the responsibility for housing has been largely concentrated in one Minister of the Crown. The National Housing Act has been amended to expand facilities for the provision of housing.

The British North America Act has been amended by the United Kingdom Parliament in accordance with the request contained in a joint address adopted by both Houses of Parliament. The amendment will have the effect of maintaining more effectively the historic principle of representation by population, in the representation of the people in the House of Commons.

You have enacted a measure to clarify and define Canadian citizenship and to make it the distinctive status of the people of this country. The Immigration Act has also been amended to bring it into conformity with the revised definition of Canadian citizenship.

Other Bills enacted include measures respecting the armed forces, the development and control of Atomic Energy, the National Research Council, the Department of External Affairs, the operation of Crown Companies, the Exchequer Court, the remuneration of Judges, the investigation of Combines, Foreign Exchange Control, Unemployment Insurance, War Crimes and the Federal District Commission.

The Dominion-Provincial Conference resumed its meetings on April 25, and adjourned on May 3. The Conference not having reached unanimous agreement, proposals in respect to taxation were subsequently made which could be accepted by the provinces individually. These proposals have been accepted in principle by three provincial governments. Preliminary discussions are under way with certain other provinces. It is hoped that ultimately general agreement embracing all the provinces may be concluded.

Your approval has been given to the membership of Canada in the World Health Organization and in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. Canada has continued to give the utmost support to the various agencies of the United Nations.

Early in the session, the Prime Minister visited the United Kingdom to join in consultations on matters of common concern with the Prime Ministers or their representatives of other nations of the British Commonwealth.

Canada is represented at the Conference convoked to consider the treaties of peace with Italy and the Axis satellites of Southern and Eastern Europe which opened its proceedings in Paris on July 29, by a delegation presided over, at the outset, by the Prime Minister.

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the provision you have made for all essential services.

The further measure of relief from the wartime burden of taxation to be effected at the beginning of the new year will be cordially welcomed.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

May Divine Providence bless your deliberations and guide the nations in the establishment of a just and durable peace.

The Honourable the SPEAKER OF THE SENATE then said:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is the will and pleasure of the Honourable the Deputy Governor General that this Parliament be prorogued until the tenth day of October, next, to be here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued until the tenth day of October, next.
